Philly Transit Workers Win Complete Victory in Money Demands, Other Points

Power Tieup Terminates in Pittsburgh; Wage Fix by Arbitration

Philadelphia, Feb. 13 (AP)—The 3,000,000 daily riders of bus, trolley, subway and elevated lines used normal transportation facilities today as a strike that threatened transit service in the nation's third largest city ended exactly 48 hours after it began.

Settlement came minutes before last midnight when striking C.I.O. Transport Workers Union members voted unanimously at a mass meeting to accept an agreement drawn up by union representatives and spokesmen for the Philadelphia Transportation Company.

Union Victory
Joseph B. Dougherty, president of Local 234, which represents the P.T.C. operating and maintenance employees, asserted the settlement was "a complete union victory—the company capitulated in full."

But a P.T.C. spokesman, declining use of his name, said he wouldn't "call it a complete victory for either side."

The agreement, extending the present contract to February 10, 1947, provided:

(1) A general wage increase of 12-cents-an-hour effective February 11. (The union had sought 25 cents).

(2) A "preferential" union shop — every man in the union now must remain in the union, and all new employees "from and after April 7, 1944," must become union members to keep their jobs.

(3) Liberalized pensions — the company will not deduct social security old-age benefits from pension payments, thus employees with 35 years service will get $94 a month instead of $60 the P.T.C. offered.

(4) Three weeks vacation with pay for employees after 10 years' service.

(5) Additional pay allowances for late runs.

Fifth Strike

The strike, fifth to affect Philadelphia's transit lines since 1885, cost the company and the workers approximately $464,000, P.T.C. President Charles E. Ebert said.

The walkout created the biggest traffic snarl in Philadelphia history. An estimated 225,000 cars jammed streets and highways during rush hours and from work. The 800,000 city workers, who normally used transit lines, managed to get to work—but not all ways on time.

Power Tieup

Pittsburgh, Feb. 13 (AP)—Suspension of the electrical power strike in the Pittsburgh area today restored normal business life and lifted fears of a total paralysis.

Lights glowed again in the Golden Triangle's office buildings for the first time in 19 hours, street cars rumbled through the streets and schools reopened.

The work stoppage ended shortly before midnight last night when the head of the striking union announced the strike's suspension after the radio. Utility workers began returning to their posts after the speech and continued the movement this morning.

Will Mediate Dispute

The union agreed to a proposal to establish a three-man board to mediate a wage dispute.

Members of the board are Pittsburgh Mayor David L. Lawrence, Federal Conciliator Charles Kutz, and Pennsylvania Secretary of Labor and Industry William H. Chesnut.

At issue is the demand of the Independent Association of Duquesne Light Company employees for a 20 per cent pay raise, and the company's best offer of a 7½ per cent increase.

State Department Blue Book Rakes Peron as Nazi Stoooge

Party Leaders Are Agreed on State Bonus for Veterans

Sweep Aside Contentions by Business Groups That Obligation Is Only Federal

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—Republican legislative leaders, sweeping aside opposition of business interests, said today a state cash bonus for World War 2 veterans would be approved by the current legislature.

The leaders declared themselves entirely out of sympathy with the contention of the State Chamber of Commerce and the Commerce and Industry Association of New York that payment of a bonus was the obligation of the federal government rather than of the state.

Democratic leaders agreed with their G.O.P. colleagues.

Views of the business organizations were given late yesterday to the joint legislative veterans committee at a public hearing on proposals to grant a bonus and other benefits to ex-service men.

The state chamber maintained the federal government was planning to make "generous provision" for the veterans and therefore the state should not pay a bonus.

The Commerce and Industry Association termed a bonus the primary responsibility of the federal government. It also asserted the federal loan provisions for veterans were adequate.

U.N.O. Committee Selects New York For Interim Site

London, Feb. 13 (AP)—A United Nations Assembly committee voted overwhelmingly today to establish temporary United Nations headquarters in New York City.

The committee rejected a proposal that the temporary site should be in San Francisco.

The action puts the site question up to the whole Assembly.

The Westchester-Fairfield area of New York State and Connecticut had previously been recommended by the Committee as permanent United Nations headquarters.

One other top issue, the Indonesian question, remained to be settled by the Security Council before the United Nations could adjourn its current meeting.

Trygve Lie, Secretary-General, was reported to have expressed the opinion the Assembly would wind up its business by Friday night.

The Security Council was scheduled to meet at 9 p. m. (4 p. m., E.S.T.) to take up the Indonesian problem.

Another issue, the demand of Syria and Lebanon for evacuation of French and British troops from the Levant, appeared likely to come before the Council however before it concludes its winter session.

Van Dyke Hearing Is Adjourned to February 27

George Van Dyke, 57, a negro of 24 Ann street, charged with turning in a false fire alarm on February 1, had his hearing adjourned to February 27 when his case came up in police court today.

The negro's arrest followed a series of three false alarms Friday morning, February 1, and Van Dyke is charged with turning in the third alarm of that morning.

Officer George P. Bowers, who had been assigned to investigate the series of false fire alarms, made the arrest.

Formal Diplomatic Break Is Not Expected but Situation Remains Very Tense

By GRAHAM HOVEY

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—The State Department's blast at key Argentine leaders as wartime pawns of Nazi Germany hastened a fresh crisis today in the already badly-strained relations between the United States and Argentina.

Whether a formal break in diplomatic ties will result remained an open question.

Secretary of State Byrnes told reporters the United States does not intend to follow up its "blue book" attack on the military rulers of Buenos Aires with any single nation action against Argentina.

But at least two members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee indicated they expect further diplomatic steps eventually.

Dispatches from the Argentine capital disclosed that at least part of the Blue Book indictment had been published there, and these dispatches speculated on the likelihood of curtailed relations.

Col. Juan Peron, Argentina's strong man and current presidential candidate, refrained in a campaign speech last night from mentioning the "Blue Book" which included assertions that the Nazis had been allowed to set up in Argentina "a complete duplicate of the economic structure for war" which they had in Germany.

Peron Charges Interference
However, Peron did assail U. S. Assistant Secretary of State Spruille Braden for what he called "insolent intervention" in Argentina's affairs.

It is no secret at the State Department.

Rumor of Enoch Arden Case Here Is Denied Today

Private Whipple Officially Dead; Wife's Brother Visited His Grave in France

The rumor of an Enoch Arden case involving a Kingston woman and her soldier husband, was today termed a pure myth by the principal figure, Mrs. Edward Prusak of 46 Farrelly street.

According to rumors circulating through the city during the past several days, Mrs. Prusak's first husband, Pvt. George Whipple of 5 Lincoln street, had returned to this country, after being listed as dead by the War Department, to find that his wife had remarried.

"It's nothing but a vicious rumor," Mrs. Prusak told a Freeman reporter this morning. "My first husband was reported missing in action by the War Department on September 20, 1944, in the Loriet sector of France."

"On March 7, 1945," Mrs. Prusak continued, "I was formally notified of George's death. The War Department said he was killed on the same day that he had been listed as missing in action."

"I waited 15 months from the time I was first notified of George's death until I remarried," Mrs. Prusak said. "I feel that I waited a sufficient length of time and all these rumors are pretty nasty and unfair."

The marriage was the second for Mr. and Mrs. Prusak. Mr. Prusak's first wife died several months ago, leaving an infant child.

Since then she has made several futile attempts to get additional information on her first husband's death, Mrs. Prusak said. The 5th Division of the 10th Infantry with which her husband was serving was virtually annihilated in the Loriet sector at that time, officiated. The witnesses were Raymond Stoski and Martha Lukaszewski, sister of the bride. Mrs. Prusak's maiden name was Josephine T. Lukaszewski and at the time she resided at 13 Third avenue.

Mrs. Prusak's second marriage to Edward Prusak of 46 Farrelly street, took place on November 17, 1945, at the Holy Cross Church. The Rev. Stanley Dean performed the ceremony and the witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Khedarian. The marriage certificate listed Pvt. Whipple as dead.

There are two children in the household, Joanne Whipple, eight years old; and 15-months old Ann. Mr. Prusak's child by his first marriage.

Research centers often have their own animal farms. Other animals are obtained from the thousands of stray dogs brought to the city pounds to be destroyed. In this state alone 130,000 stray homeless dogs are killed by humane societies and dog pounds every year. Medical science uses not even a fraction of this number, and even this would be denied by anti-vivisectionists.

Pet animals are never used in research. Research centers have also saved the lives of untold numbers of dogs in the discovery of treatment for the prevention of distemper and rabies.

Urge Defeat of Bills

In the past few weeks thousands of dogs have been brought to the city pounds to be destroyed.

Rush Hour in Manhattan, the Deserted Village

This picture, made looking north from 12th street and Broadway shortly before 9 a. m. February 12, shows the famous Times Square "crossroads" practically deserted during the normal morning rush hour. All industrial, business and amusement places, with the exception of certain essential activities, were ordered closed by Mayor William O'Dwyer to cope with a critical fuel shortage brought about by the tugboat strike.

Medical Research Group Here Plans Educational Drive

Permanent Organization Necessary in View of Bills Introduced in Legislature

Plans to launch an educational campaign in Kingston and Ulster county to enlighten the general public on the dangers of anti-vivisection legislation, and to form a permanent Ulster County Committee of the Friends of Medical Research, were made at a meeting of interested citizens Tuesday evening at the city laboratory.

A steering committee was named to direct the activities of the Ulster County Committee, and a meeting of the general committee will be held in Kingston next week, at a date to be designated later.

Prior to the holding of the meeting last night word was received from Albany that the Senate Codes Committee had killed two anti-vivisection bills that had been introduced in the Legislature.

In the discussion of the question of vivisection at the meeting it was brought out that it was surprising the number of otherwise well informed people who knew so little of the value of medical research on dogs and other animals.

Research Helps Many
Millions of people in New York state, it was said, owe their lives to medical research. Close to 90,000 diabetic persons in the state are alive and well today because of this research which made possible the discovery of the cause of diabetes, and led to the development of insulin.

It was also brought out that fully 20,000 persons in the state are active healthy members of the community because the use of dogs in medical research made possible the discovery of liver therapy in the once fatal pernicious anemia.

The use of dogs in the laboratory made possible the discovery of plasma as a blood substitute, thus saving the lives of thousands of men wounded in World War 2. The sulfu drugs and penicillin, too, were made available for human use only after development on animals.

Research centers often have their own animal farms. Other animals are obtained from the thousands of stray dogs brought to the city pounds to be destroyed. In this state alone 130,000 stray homeless dogs are killed by humane societies and dog pounds every year. Ickes Resigns His Post With Slap at Truman

Challenges President's Judgment of Veracity; Chapman Is Now Interior Head

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes, original New Dealer, resigned as Secretary of Interior today bluntly challenging President Truman's right to pass judgment on his "veracity."

"I cannot stay on when you, in effect, have expressed lack of confidence in me," Ickes said in a lengthy letter to the President which he made public after the White House announced his resignation.

The resignation of the "old curmudgeon" who took office with Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933, grew out of Ickes' opposition to the nomination of Edwin W. Pauley to the Undersecretary of the Navy, and the President's support of the California oil man.

Ickes asked to be relieved March 31, but Mr. Truman made the resignation effective Friday, February 15. The President's letter of acceptance was not made public.

Names Chapman
The President designated Oscar L. Chapman, a Coloradan who has served 13 years as an Assistant Secretary of the Interior, to succeed Ickes.

Approximately 1,447,000 workers idle in labor disputes.

Shipping—Strike of 3,500 A.F.L. tugboat workers in New York continues for 10th day but Mayor William O'Dwyer revokes order which for 18 hours had shut down all commercial, industrial and amusement activities in move to save fuel; no immediate hope of ending wage dispute.

Transportation—Two-day strike of 9,900 C.I.O. workers of Philadelphia Transportation Company which serves 3,000,000 riders daily ends as strikers ratify agreement granting 12 cents hourly wage increase, preferential union shop and liberalized pension plan.

Power—3,400 employees of Duquesne Light Company end 19-hour work stoppage which resulted in curtailed service to some 1,500,000 residents of Pittsburgh and nearby communities; three-man board to mediate wage dispute; union seeks 20 per cent pay hike, company's top offer 7½ per cent.

Automotive—Wage negotiations between General Motors and C.I.O. United Auto Workers break up as union rejects company's offer of 18½ cents hourly wage boost for 175,000 employees on strikes since November 21; union holds to demands for 19½ cents an hour hike; N.L.R.B. hearings on union charges of unfair labor practices resumed.

Communications—National Federation of Telephone Workers leaders to vote on strike call Monday in support of 17,000 striking Western Electric employees and N.E.T.W.'s demands for $2 daily wage increase; walkout would tie up country's telephone toll service and local phone service in 21 states.

Movies—New strike threat by powerful Conference of Studio Unions in Hollywood which involved in seven months walkout last year; C.S.U. president demands cut in hours with no deduction in pay for some 6,000 A.F.L. employees; work stoppage possible by Monday.

New York Is Returning To Normal

Commercial, Pleasure Places Open Again; All Schools Remain Closed

No Settlement

Boat Owners Will Meet With Union Heads in Conference Today

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—New York city, which for 18 hours yesterday was as quiet as a country hamlet, roared back to its normal spirited pace today following revocation of a fuel-saving edict that imposed the most drastic business shutdown in the city's history.

Just as suddenly as it had come, the order clamping a lid on all but essential activities was lifted last night by Mayor William O'Dwyer who said the fuel crisis had abated and that the city now was assured of a sufficient flow to meet essential requirements.

The cause of it all—a 10-day strike of 3,500 tugboat workers in New York harbor—remained unsettled, however, and a rationing program invoked last week still was in effect. Schools, too, remained closed.

Back to Normalcy

Otherwise, the city quickly swung back to normalcy. Thousands of commuters again jammed subways, buses and trains to get to offices from which most of them were barred yesterday.

"Closed Until Further Notice" signs came down from stores, theatres, bars, barber shops, business houses and skyscrapers.

A big question was whether office workers would get paid for not working yesterday. No official ruling was available, city officials declining comment and union officials saying no policy had yet been formulated.

Business leaders gloomily took account of their losses. It was estimated the shutdown cost the garment industry $5,000,000, department stores $3,000,000 and the entertainment industry $1,000,000.

The only hope of settlement of the 10-day strike was an indication by O'Dwyer that the committee might meet with union officials at 2 p. m. today if they obtained permission from the full membership of the Tug Owners' Association.

James P. McAllister, chairman of the Tugboat Owners' Association's negotiation committee, said the situation "looks hopeful." He made the statement as he announced the employers group would meet with representatives of Local 333, United Marine Division of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.) later in the day.

Boat Owners Hold Out

Union men have agreed to submit the wage-hour dispute to arbitration but the owners as yet have not reached agreement on procedure for arbitration of the issues that led to the walkout.

The revocation of the shutdown order was effective at 6 p. m. (E.S.T.) last night. O'Dwyer, in announcing the return to normalcy said "the emergency has been somewhat relieved."

Oil Received

Health Commissioner Ernest L. Siebens told the city that he was rescinding the order because 2,000,000 gallons of fuel oil were brought into the city during the day and that he had been assured of the services today of several additional tugs by the Office of Defense Transportation.

"This amount of transport," he said, "will assure us of sufficient oil for essential uses. The situation is still acute and conservation is necessary. But in view of the marked improvement in 24 hours we feel justified in rescinding the order closing all business establishments in this city."

Nightclubs and theatres which

All other speakers at the hearing, numbering more than 50, urged a bonus and other types of assistance.

Edward N. Scheiberling, past National Commander of the American Legion, said the state's legionnaires wanted a graduated cash bonus, based on length of service. The Legion has not suggested any amount, but Scheiberling said the bonus should be substantially more than the $150 the state gave to veterans of the first World War, "because the service in this war was longer and more difficult."

Meanwhile, Brig. Gen. Ames T. Brown, state director of Selective Service, estimated that the number of New York state veterans in service in World War 2 totaled 1,530,044, of whom 907,638 were from New York city. He said the average length of service was 2 years, 5 months and 10 days.

Brother Visited Grave
Explaining that the present rumors were causing her terrible discomfort, Mrs. Prusack told The Freeman that her brother, Casimir Lukaszewski, had visited Pvt. Whipple's grave in the Luxembourg cemetery.

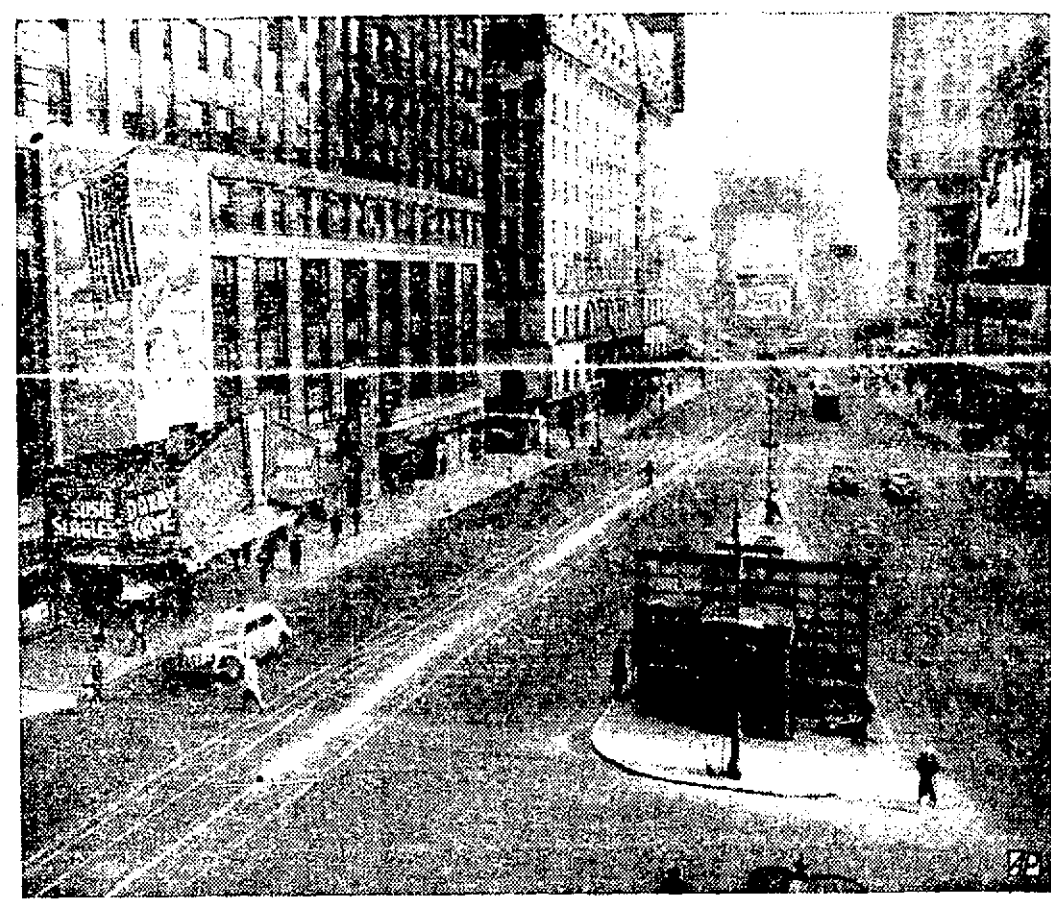

According to records filed with the city clerk, Mrs. Prusack married her first husband, George Whipple of 5 Lincoln street, on August 16, 1936, at the Immaculate Conception Church. The Rev. Francis P. Borowski, pastor of the church at that time, officiated.

The witnesses were Raymond Stopski and Martha Lukaszewski, sister of the bride. Mrs. Prusack's maiden name was Josephine T. Lukaszewski and at the time she resided at 13 Third avenue.

Mrs. Prusack's second marriage to Edward Prusack of 46 Farrelly street, took place on November 17, 1945, at the Holy Cross Church. The Rev. Stanley Dean performed the ceremony, and the witnesses were Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Khedarian. The marriage certificate listed Pvt. Whipple as dead.

There are two children in the household, Joanne Whipple, eight years old; and 15-month old Ann. Mrs. Prusack's union by her first marriage.

Rush Hour in Manhattan, the Deserted Village

This picture, made looking north from 42nd street and Broadway shortly before 9 a. m. February 12, shows the famous Times Square "crossroads" practically deserted during the normal morning rush hour. All industrial, business and amusement places, with the exception of certain essential activities, were ordered closed by Mayor William O'Dwyer to cope with a critical fuel shortage brought about by the tugboat strike.

Medical Research Group Here Plans Educational Drive

Permanent Organization Necessary in View of Bills Introduced in Legislature

Plans to launch an educational campaign in Kingston and Ulster County to enlighten the general public on the dangers of anti-vivisection legislation, and to form a permanent Ulster County Committee of the Friends of Medical Research, were made at a meeting of interested citizens Tuesday evening at the city laboratory.

A steering committee was named to direct the activities of the Ulster County Committee, and a meeting of the general committee will be held in Kingston next week at a date to be designated later.

Prior to the holding of the meeting last night word was received from Albany that the Senate Codes Committee had killed two anti-vivisection bills that had been introduced in the Legislature. In the discussion of the question of vivisection at the meeting it was brought out that it was surprising the number of otherwise well informed people who knew so little of the value of medical research on dogs and other animals.

Research Helps Many
Millions of people in New York state, it was said, owe their lives to medical research. Close to 100,000 diabetic persons in the state are alive and well today because of this research which made possible the discovery of the cause of diabetes, and led to the development of insulin.

It was also brought out that fully 200,000 persons in the state are active healthy members of the community because the use of dogs in medical research made possible the discovery of liver therapy in the case of fatal pernicious anemia.

The use of dogs in the laboratory made possible the discovery of plasma as a blood substitute, thus saving the lives of thousands of men wounded in World War 2. The sulfa drugs and penicillin, too, were made available for human use only after development on animals.

Research centers often have their own animal farms. Other animals are obtained from the thousands of stray dogs brought to the city pounds to be destroyed. In this state alone 150,000 stray homeless dogs are killed by humane societies and dog pounds every year. Medical science uses not even a fraction of this number, and even this would be denied by anti-vivisectionists.

But animals are never used in this manner. This animal research work has also saved the lives of untold numbers of dogs in the discovery of treatment for the prevention of leukemia and cancer.

Urges Defeat of Bills
In the past few weeks thousands of bills have been introduced in the Legislature.

Ickes Resigns His Post With Slap at Truman

Challenges President's Judgment of Veracity; Chapman Is Now Interior Head

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—Harold L. Ickes, original New Dealer, resigned as Secretary of Interior today bluntly challenging President Truman's right to pass judgment on his "veracity."

"I cannot stay on when you, in effect, have expressed lack of confidence in me," Ickes said in a lengthy letter to the President which he made public after the White House announced his resignation.

The resignation of the "old curmudgeon" who took office with Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1933, grew out of Ickes' opposition to the nomination of Edwin W. Pauley to the Undersecretary of the Navy, and the President's support of the California oil man.

Ickes asked to be relieved March 31, but Mr. Truman made the resignation effective Friday, February 15. The President's letter of acceptance was not made public.

Names Chapman
The President designated Oscar L. Chapman, a Coloradoan who has served 13 years as an Assistant Secretary of the Interior.

Strikes at a Glance

(By The Associated Press)
Approximately 1,447,000 workers idle in labor disputes.

Shipping—Strike of 3,500 A.F.L. tugboat workers in New York continues for 10th day but Mayor William O'Dwyer revokes order which for 18 hours had shut down all commercial, industrial and amusement activities in move to save fuel; no immediate hope of ending wage dispute.

Transportation—Two-day strike of 9,000 C.I.O. workers of Philadelphia Transportation Company which serves 3,000,000 riders daily ends as strikers ratify agreement granting 12 cents hourly wage increase, preferential union shop and liberalized pension plan.

Power—3,400 employees of Duquesne Light Company end 19-hour work stoppage which resulted in curtailed service to some 1,500,000 residents of Pittsburgh and nearby communities; three-man board to mediate wage dispute; union seeks 20 per cent pay hike, company's top offer 7 1/2 per cent.

Automotive—Wage negotiations between General Motors and C.I.O. United Auto Workers break up as union rejects company's offer of 18 1/2 cents hourly wage boost for 175,000 employees on strike since November 21; union holds to demands for 19 1/2 cents an hour hike; N.L.R.B. hearings on union charges of unfair labor practices resumed.

Communications—National Federation of Telephone Workers leaders to vote on strike call Monday in support of 17,000 striking Western Electric employees and N.F.T.W.'s demands for $2 daily wage increase; walkout would tie up country's telephone toll service and local phone service in 21 states.

Movies—New strike threat by powerful Conference of Studio Unions in Hollywood which involved in seven months walkout last year; C.S.U. president demands cut in hours with no deduction in pay for some 6,000 A.F.L. employees; work stoppage possible by Monday.

New York Is Returning To Normal

Commercial, Pleasure Places Open Again; All Schools Remain Closed

No Settlement

Boat Owners Will Meet With Union Heads in Conference Today

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—New York city, which for 18 hours yesterday was as quiet as a country hamlet, roared back to its normal spirited pace today following revocation of a fuel-saving edict that imposed the most drastic business shutdown in the city's history.

Just as suddenly as it had come, the order clamping a lid on all but essential activities was lifted last night by Mayor William O'Dwyer who said the fuel crisis had abated and that the city now was assured of a sufficient flow to meet essential requirements.

The cause of it all—a 10-day strike of 3,500 tugboat workers in New York harbor—remained unsettled, however, and a rationing program invoked last week still was in effect. Schools, too, remained closed.

Back to Normalcy
Observing the city's return to normalcy, thousands of commuters again jammed subways, buses and trains to get to offices from which most of them were barred yesterday.

"Closed Until Further Notice" signs came down from stores, theatres, bars, barber shops, business houses and skyscrapers.

A big question was whether office workers would get paid for not working yesterday. No official ruling was available, city officials declining comment and union officials saying no policy had yet been formulated.

Business leaders gloomily took account of their losses. It was estimated the shutdown cost the garment industry $3,000,000, department stores $3,000,000 and the entertainment industry $1,000,000.

The only hope of settlement of the 10-day strike was an indication by O'Dwyer that the committee might meet with union officials at 2 p. m. today if they obtained permission from the full membership of the Tug Owners' Association.

James P. McAllister, chairman of the Tugboat Owners Association's negotiation committee, said the situation "looks hopeful." He made the statement as he announced the employers group would meet with representatives of Local 333, United Marine Division of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.) later in the day.

Boat Owners Hold Out
Union men have agreed to submit the wage-hour dispute to arbitration but the owners as yet have not reached agreement on procedure for arbitration of the issues that led to the walkout.

The revocation of the shutdown order was effective at 6 p. m. (E.S.T.) last night. O'Dwyer, in announcing the return to normalcy said "the emergency has been somewhat relieved."

Oil Received
Health Commissioner Ernest L. Stebbins told the city that he was rescinding the order because 22,000,000 gallons of fuel oil were brought into the city during the day and that he had been assured of the services today of several additional tugs by the Office of Defense Transportation.

"This amount of transport," he said, "will assure us of sufficient oil for essential uses. The situation is still acute and conservation is necessary. But in view of the marked improvement in 24 hours we feel justified in rescinding the order closing all business establishments in this city."

Nightclubs and theatres which had been closed since the strike were again open.

Shooting Is Honorable Death to Bataan Tyrant

Manila, Feb. 13 (AP)—Lt. Gen. Masaharu Homma, Bataan death march commander, was so relieved on learning that he would be shot instead of hanged that he relaxed and slept during the ride to prison where he awaits execution.

He had feared ignoble death on the gallows, like that decreed for Lt. Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, reported Maj. Larry Hodgkin, Twin Falls, Ida., the military police officer who rode with Homma from Manila to Luzon prison camp No. 1.

Homma evidently had not understood the sentence as it was read in court.

"He asked me, 'Major, what did they find me guilty of?'" Hodgkin told interviewers today. Hodgkin gave him a sealed envelope containing the court findings that he had condoned countless atrocities.

"When he got down to the penalty, shooting," Hodgkin said, "he remarked: 'Oh, that's good. They're not going to hang me. That (shooting) is an honorable death.'"

Whereupon he put away his spectacles, leaned back in the car and went to sleep.

Oklohma Tornado Injures 14 Persons

Ardmore, Okla., Feb. 13 (AP)—At least 14 persons were injured, none seriously, in a tornado which struck this southern Oklahoma city of 20,000 early today, strewn homes in its path and disrupting telephone and power lines.

Lt. Arch Merriott of the state highway patrol reported that 14 persons had been hospitalized and that rescue workers still were going through the debris for other injured.

At least 25 houses were demolished and a number of others were unroofed or otherwise damaged as the storm centered its force in the southeastern part of Ardmore.

Lack of lights hampered rescue work.

If furniture casters are waxed it will help prevent ugly marks on the floor.

Eternal Parade of America's 5,600 Valiant Dead on Luzon

By WAYNE RICHARDSON

Santa Barbara, Luzon, Feb. 13 (AP)—The white crosses and stars of David march across the grass in even ranks—5,600 of America's valiant dead on eternal parade.

On this plain, where at Santa Barbara Cemetery 40 per cent of the Americans who fell in the Philippines are buried, some of the most sanguinary fighting of two campaigns once raged.

You would never know it now, six months after the last liberating shots rang through the green-clad Bontoc mountains to the north.

Here the wounds of war inflicted on corn fields and rice paddies were transitory, and few scars remain.

Just to the north lies Lingayan Gulf, where the Japanese came out of the sea in December, 1941, bent on conquest, and where the Americans came last year to liberate Luzon.

To the south stretches the great central Luzon plain leading to Manila, the military road of conqueror and liberator.

The Zambales mountains rise to the southwest, leading toward Bataan peninsula, of unhappy but heroic memory.

Coconut trees stand sentinel about the cemetery. The graves are laid in 106 rows, 53 to the row, and Filipinos move among them, trimming the grass with knives.

They bend to their task under the tropic sun. There are no lawnmowers on Luzon and the work must be done by hand.

This military cemetery was laid out 12 days after D-Day by Capt. Steve W. Mason of Hagerman, N. M.

So close was the fighting then that bodies were brought in under enemy fire, and several 107th Quartermaster graves registration men were decorated for valor.

The first grave was dug January 27, 1945, for a Tennessee private, a member of the 63rd Infantry Regiment.

Others followed, graves for men from every state in the Union, as the fighting on Luzon mounted in intensity.

Here is the grave of Brig. Gen. James A. Dalton, assistant commander of the 25th Infantry Division, who was killed by a sniper as he drove the Japanese into northern Luzon May 16, 1945.

He is the highest ranking American buried here. On his right and left are the graves of two privates, first class.

It is peaceful now. It is hard to realize the fury of the fighting then.

ARGENTINES AID ASKED

Members of the Argentine Rural Society in Buenos Aires, as meat exporters, have been invited to assist the 800-year-old Worshipful Company of Butchers of London, England, in reconstructing the company's guildhall which was destroyed when flying bombs in June, 1944, J. The regular meeting of the Hurley Grange was held at the Grange Rooms Thursday evening with Justin Bell, master, presiding. It was decided by the members after

George Egan, secretary, read a letter in regard to highway problems, to devote the next meeting to a discussion of road problems in the township. Attention of all members was called to the evening of games—progressive and pivot manchala, bridge, dominoes, Chinese checkers—to be held in the school auditorium Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. An invitation is extended to all. Tickets may be obtained by calling Mrs. Walter Stauble, 823-J-2; or Mrs. Justin Bell, 59-J-1. Refreshments will be served.

Eternal Parade of America's 5,600 Valiant Dead on Luzon

By WAYNE RICHARDSON
Santa Barbara, Luzon, Feb. 13 (P)—The white crosses and stars of David march across the grass in even ranks—5,600 of America's valiant dead on eternal parade.

On this plain, where at Santa Barbara Cemetery 40 per cent of the Americans who fell in the Philippines are buried, some of the most sanguinary fighting of two campaigns once raged.

You would never know it now, six months after the last liberating shots rang through the green-clad Bontoc mountains to the north.

Here the wounds of war inflicted on corn fields and rice paddies were transitory, and few scars remain.

Just to the north lies Lingayan Gulf, where the Japanese came out of the sea in December, 1941, bent on conquest, and where the Americans came last year to liberate Luzon.

To the south stretches the great central Luzon plain leading to Manila, the military road of conqueror and liberator.

The Zambales mountains rise to the southwest, leading toward Bataan peninsula, of unhappy but heroic memory.

Coconut trees stand sentinel about the cemetery. The graves are laid in 106 rows, 53 to the row, and Filipinos move among them, trimming the grass with knives.

They bend to their task under the tropic sun. There are no lawnmowers on Luzon and the work must be done by hand.

This military cemetery was laid out 12 days after D-Day by Capt. Steve W. Mason of Hagerman, N. M.

So close was the fighting then that bodies were brought in under enemy fire, and several 107th Quartermaster graves registration men were decorated for valor.

The first grave was dug January 27, 1945, for a Tennessee private, a member of the 68th Infantry Regiment.

Others followed, graves for men from every state in the Union, as the fighting on Luzon mounted in intensity.

Here is the grave of Brig. Gen. James A. Dalton, assistant commander of the 25th Infantry Division, who was killed by a sniper as he drove the Japanese into northern Luzon May 16, 1945.

He is the highest ranking American buried here. On his right and left are the graves of two privates, first class.

It is peaceful now. It is hard to realize the fury of the fighting then.

ARGENTINES AID ASKED

Members of the Argentine Rural Society in Buenos Aires, as meat exporters, have been invited to assist the 800-year-old Worshipful Company of Butchers of London, England, in reconstructing the company's guildhall which was destroyed when flying bombs in June, 1944, J. A. Brewster, of the Smithfield and Argentine Meat Co., explained the situation on his return to Argentina.

Steel Paper Says Strike Will End In Near Future

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—The steel wage-price issue has been settled, The Iron Age, national metalworking paper, said today, and "the strike is expected to be ended probably this week, or early next week."

Steel workers would get the 18½ cents an hour increase that President Truman suggested, the paper said, and the steel industry would obtain an average of $5 a ton on carbon and alloy steels.

Disagreement over the retroactive feature of the wage increase would be the only bar to the workers returning to their jobs within a few days, The Iron Age said, adding that the President wanted the advance retroactive to January 1 and the industry held out for the date on which the men returned to work.

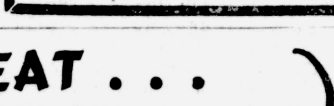

Announcement of the steel price agreement has been held in abeyance pending completion of the administration's broad pricing policy, the paper said.

The strike has meant loss of approximately 6,000,000 tons of steel and $60,000,000 in wages of basic steel employees, Iron Age estimated.

The price advance will bring the industry about $275,000,000 a year and the wage increase will cost about $183,000,000, according to the paper, the difference falling "far short of what the industry has claimed is necessary to make up for past accumulated costs."

There are some 8,000 treaties in recorded history.

Bills Proposed at Albany

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—A constitutional amendment to create a unicameral state legislature is sought by Sen. Francis J. Mahoney, New York city Democrat.

Mahoney proposed an amendment yesterday which would eliminate the present two-house system and create a single chamber to be known as the Assembly.

The Senate committee on codes, meanwhile, killed two anti-vivisection bills introduced by Sen. Richard A. DiCostanzo, New York city Republican.

Other bills introduced would: Permit state employees at least 24 days vacation with pay during each year of state service.

Reduce from six to five per cent the amount of the pari-mutuel pool at New York city race tracks which is paid to the state, provide for two per cent to New York city and the remainder to the racing associations; earmark "breaks" at all tracks and at harness meets for a state veterans' benefits pool.

Continue until July 1, 1947, commercial and business rent control in New York city, eliminating the present provision for fixing by arbitration rent in excess of emergency rent.

Allow reinstatement of an attorney previously disbarred for at least three years for other than a felony conviction and who has an honorable record in the armed services, on evidence of good moral character.

Provide that prison guards appointed during the war for civil service lists and who have served for 2½ years shall acquire permanent status as of the date of the original appointment.

Decide Tonight
On Phone Strike
For Next Monday

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Disclosure whether a nationwide telephone strike will be called next Monday by the National Federation of Telephone Workers (Ind.) may be made tonight at a meeting of an affiliated union, the Western Electric Employees Association (Ind.).

Alexander Eltmann, attorney associated with counsel for several unions affiliated with the N.F.T.W., said last night that Federation President Joseph Beirne had promised "all-out" support of the 17,000 W.E.E.A. members, (W.E.E.A. struck January 3 in a wage dispute), and that Frank Fitzsimmons, W.E.E.A. president, would give details concerning the support at the union meeting.

The session is scheduled for 8 p. m. (E.S.T.) in Jersey City, N. J.

The attorney said the tieup would be similar to that which occurred last month when for three days many telephone workers refused to cross picket lines of the Association of Communication Equipment Workers, another N.F.T.W. affiliate.

The Equipment Workers, who set up picket lines around telephone exchanges in 44 states, returned to work after the telephone federation promised to conduct a poll to determine whether members wished to call a nationwide strike.

SPUD PICKER INVENTED

The aches and stiffness of the back caused by potato picking has long been a bane to the Irish and may have been partly responsible for the departure of so many workers from farms, Dublin observers remark in announcing that a young English farmer has patented a mechanical potato picker which sorts the tubers and puts each into an appropriate bag. The only drawback is that it is still too expensive for a poor man.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, Feb. 13—The Hope Social Club will meet this evening with Mrs. Lyman Ellsworth at her home on Salem street. Mrs. Charles Howe will be the assisting hostess.

Friday, February 15 is the last day to pay the water rent at the town clerk's office. After that date 10 per cent will be added.

The Reformed Missionary will meet at the home of Miss Rosamond Lampan tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, instead of 2:30 o'clock as previously announced.

The Rev. and Mrs. George Berens, William Lounsbury and Ross Berens are attending the Youth Regional Conference in Albany on Sunday.

Mrs. Ed Cunningham and Mrs. Louise Gross visited relatives in Ramsey, N. J., on Sunday.

Mrs. Lawrence Lyons and son, Lawrence, Jr., spent Tuesday in Oneonta visiting relatives.

Mrs. Martin Schleede is a patient in the Kingston Hospital. She had the misfortune to fracture an arm and a leg in a recent fall. Mrs. Schleede is a former resident of the village and now resides in Kingston.

In the Men's Bowling League this evening Team 1 will play Team 4 at 7 o'clock.

Mrs. Vincent Meleski attended the Girl Scout leaders' meeting Monday evening in Kingston. Those pupils in Room 4 at School No. 13 having an average of 90 per cent or over for the last quarter are as follows: Shirley Krom, Joan Schultz, Betty Short, Rodney Whittaker. Those having a perfect attendance are: Wayne Berens, Richard Mains, Cameron Page, Bruce Palen, Clifford Schwark, Edna Fisk, Joan Schultz, Betty Short.

Mrs. Winifred Neher has been engaged to complete the term in the place of Miss Mary Polhemus. Miss Polhemus has accepted a position in the Kingston city school system.

Democrats Act For More State Aid at Hearing

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—Democratic city officials, in full cry for more state aid, swept into the capitol today for a frontal assault on the Moore Commission program at a public hearing on Governor Dewey's budget.

Ready with counter fire at the hearing this afternoon were Republican defenders of the plan to establish a permanent system of state assistance to localities.

As a sample of what was cooking, Lazarus Joseph, New York city Comptroller and Democratic critic-in-chief of the Moore program, said in a statement that he had come "not with hat in hand, but to demand from the state of New York the necessary funds to protect the citizens of the city of New York."

One Republican critic of the plan was listed as a speaker—Lawrence H. Cooke of Monticello, representing the Sullivan County Board of Supervisors. The board feels the program is unfair to its towns.

Meanwhile the State C.I.O. assailed Dewey's tax cut proposals as a gift to the rich.

In all, 68 persons were scheduled to discuss phases of Dewey's proposed record-high $555,000,000 budget.

such that it was "not surprising" some had been led to believe reports Truman would not seek reelection in 1948.

Brownell, in an address over the Mutual Broadcasting System last night, said:

"Only today the newspapers reported that Mr. Truman, after less than one year in office, had informed a group of high officials that he would not be a candidate for reelection in 1948. A few hours later the chairman of the national committee (Robert Hannegan) denied that Mr. Truman made any such statement.

"I do not pretend to know whether the newspapers or Mr. Hannegan were correct, but Mr. Truman's record since he entered the White House has been such that it is not surprising that credence should be given to the newspaper report I have mentioned."

Brownell added that "we are in another period of peril and uncertainty and it would be well if we had another Lincoln in the White House."

Directors Named For the Catholic Charities Drive

Parish directors for Ulster county's part in the annual fund appeal of New York Catholic Charities have been appointed and will conduct the house-to-house canvass from March 31 to April 10.

Cardinal-designate Francis J. Spellman announced opening of the campaign through his Secretary for Charities, the Right Rev. Monsignor Robert F. Keogan, P.A., director of this year's appeal.

Last year's fund appeal of Catholic Charities, Monsignor Keogan revealed, resulted in contributions totaling $1,676,187 from the parishes and special gifts.

Ulster Directors

Active parish directors for Ulster county and the parishes they will organize are as follows: The Rev. Louis A. Stryker, St. John the Evangelist, Saugerties; the Rev. William L. Brennan, St. Columba's, East Kingston; the Rev. Francis J. Kleindienst, St. Andrew's, Ellenville; the Rev. William B. Duggan, St. Mary's, Ellenville; the Rev. Joseph E. Government's Role That of Mediator Hoover Declares

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover says "statism," having already swept through three-fourths of the world, is now "the great issue before the American people."

Hoover, speaking at a Lincoln Day dinner of the National Republican Club last night, said the growth of statism had been nourished by the confusion of war and that "it can grow still more by continued excessive taxation and creeping inflation."

"Some big business undertook extra-curricular activities in special privilege and vicious interference in the politics of free government. That was a new tyranny over free men."

"Today we see a gigantic growth of labor unions paralleling big business. And out of the extra-curricular activities of some C.I.O. unions, under radical leaders, we have another form of special privilege and vicious interference in the politics of free government."

"That is again tyranny," Hoover said. "Free men cannot permit economic tyranny, whether by capital or labor, any more than they can tolerate political tyranny."

"Therefore, the concept of freedom must include government regulation of economic life. But if men are to remain free, then government must not dictate or operate economic life any more than it may dictate or operate spiritual life. It must remain umpire and mediator," he said.

State Fair Officers Re-elected for This Year

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—Officers of the past year again head the New York State Association of Agricultural Fair Societies.

Those re-elected yesterday at the closing session of a two-day meeting included Bligh A. Doggs, Gouverneur, president; and J. Alfred Valentine, Nassau county, and W. Ray Converse, Palmyra, vice presidents.

The group voted to ask the Legislature to increase to $10,000 the amount which a fair may pay in premium awards. The present limit is $8,000.

Vote Postponed

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—The Assembly today postponed for a week a vote on a Senate-approved resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to create another judicial district from the present second district comprising Kings, Nassau, Queens, Richmond and Suffolk counties.

State Must Act Says Senator on U.N.O. Land

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—Senator Pliny W. Williamson, Westchester Republican, said yesterday that enabling legislation by the state Legislature would be necessary before the federal government could turn over lands in the state for the United Nations headquarters.

Declaring that everything must be done to "make this movement a great success," Williamson said:

"In my opinion it is essential that this matter (of a U.N.O. site) be submitted to this Legislature for action. We must remind ourselves now that the U. S. government is a government of limited powers."

"In my opinion it has no power to go into Westchester county and take land for this purpose."

Record Volume Handled By Railway Express

More than 209 million shipments were handled by Railway Express throughout the United States in 1945, according to R. Burke, agent of the local express office. This total averaged some 572,800 express shipments daily for the 365 day period, or an average of 397 shipments every minute of the year; or 6.6 shipments every second.

This office said Burke, accounted for 197,260 shipments in 1945. The highest shipping month was December, with 28,972 shipments.

The largest was December, 1945. In addition, Burke concluded, air express shipments included 62 for the month of December and a total of 519 for the year 1945.

That Grand and Glorious Feeling Of all the happy feelings There none happier I guess. Than when you "pop the question" And have the girl say "yes."

L. C. Allen

Two young people were walking along the road together. One was a young woman, the other a handsome farm lad.

The farm lad was carrying a pail on his back, holding a chicken in one hand, a cane in the other, and leaving a foot.

They came to a dark lane and the girl remarked:

Girl—I'm afraid to walk here with you. You might try to kiss me.

Farm Lad—How could I, with all these things I'm carrying?

Girl—Well, you might stick the cane into the ground, tie the goat to it, and put the chicken under the pail.

It is only natural that a girl would prefer beauty rather than brains, for the average man can see much better than he can think.

Two rival storekeepers were talking about their business:

First—When does your opening sale close?

Second—When your closing-out sale opens.

The homely girl wishes nature had spent a little more time fussing about her beauty and less about the park.

Inflation Note
Blow your dough—prices go up where comets gather. Save the "ready"—prices steady; Which way had you rather?

Easy-Going Chap—My wife gives me a pain the way she tries to make a big muscle man out of me.

Friend—You're lucky. Mabel is trying to make a housemaid out of me.

Monkey View Point
Three monkeys sat in a coconut tree, discussing things as they're said to be. Said one to the other: "Now, listen, you two, there's a certain rumor that can't be true—that man descended from our noble race. The very idea; it's a bare disgrace. No monkey ever deserted his wife, starved her baby and ruined her life. And you've never known a mother monkey to leave the babies with others to bunk, or pass them to one from another, 'till they scarcely know who is their mother. And another thing: You'll never see a monkey build a fence 'round a coconut tree and let the coconuts go to waste, forbidding all other monkeys a taste. Why, if I put a fence 'round this tree, starvation would force you to steal from me. Here's another thing a monkey won't do: Go out at night and get on a stool, or use a gun, or club or knife to take some other monkey's life. Yes, man descended, the ornery cuss, but brothers, he didn't descend from us."

She—Do you believe that every man gets the wife that Heaven intended for him?

He—I dare not doubt it; otherwise my religious belief would be shattered.

She—What is your belief, pray?

He—I believe that men are punished in this world for their sins.

Perhaps the best motto for the pattern of life you can give your boy is:

Always do more than you promise rather than promise more than you can do.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, FEBRUARY 13, 1946

FOOLISH RESTRICTION

Mayor William O'Dwyer of New York is having trouble in appointing the men he wants. The obstacle is an ordinance requiring all paid officials to have lived in the city for at least three years. The mayor has had to dismiss two appointees because they lived outside of the city limits, in one case in New Jersey. These out-of-town residents were thought to be the best men available for their jobs, but under the law they must be replaced by persons less satisfactory. The New York Times rightly thinks that it would be just as sensible "to refuse to buy the best available snow removal machine because it was built in Utica or Buffalo, and to buy instead an inferior machine because it happened to be made in the Bronx."

Such restrictions, unfortunately, are common in the United States. Outside of New York City they are usually enforced not by the law, but by public opinion. When it is proposed to hire an outstanding out-of-town health officer or school superintendent, some provincial critics are sure to say, "There must be somebody here in town qualified to fill this job. Why can't they keep it in Blankville?"

Local boundaries were set up as governmental conveniences, and should not be strait-jackets to hamper public efficiency.

AMERICA AS IT IS

The State Department's recently announced plan to spread information about the United States in 62 foreign countries through the offices of American diplomats, is a commendable step in "selling America" to her world neighbors. The program, operating under the new Office of Information and Cultural Affairs, is "to supply facts, not propaganda, about this country, with the aim of replacing prejudices with truth and suspicion with understanding."

American libraries will be maintained overseas, documentary and background material supplied by mail and wireless, films translated into foreign languages, and wide exchange of students, scholars and technicians will be encouraged.

At last America is waking up to the need of interpreting her best self, of presenting her ideals, her traditions and history, her cultural attainments and aims. This is an over-all plan for the State Department. There was need of such an undertaking to counteract unpleasant and untrue impressions of our country that have crept into world consciousness, sometimes, unfortunately, at the unofficial hands of our own citizens.

AN UNEASY WORLD

Looking at the present-day world disinterestedly, and as a whole, an observer might well get the idea that mankind in general is being chastised for his sins. The big, long wars seemed to be ending, but nobody is quite sure about it. Take the Christian Science Monitor, for example, which will hardly be accused of any intent to stir up a beligerent spirit anywhere, and on one inside page we find the following headlines:

"Mid-East Echoes to Drive for New Order."
"Egyptian Unrest Flares."
"Anti-British Mood Rules."
"Arabs to Ask France for Trusteeship."
"British Woods Arabs in Middle East."
"British Claim No Part in Greek Riots."

CALORIES

The average American knows little, and cares less, about the "calory" or energy value of food, but will be learning from now on, as world food problems grow in scope and importance. The boys and girls in school will probably be more interested in their physiology lessons, and father and mother will be trying to catch up.

They will learn how many calories are required for an adequate meal, by children and grown-ups, and how people learn to distinguish the foods that have a lot of calories in them from those that give less nourishment. The average diet required to keep people in good health is rated at 2,650 calories, along

PAULEY AND ALLEN

It seems to me that the fuss that is being made over Messrs. Pauley and Allen is much beside the point. The fuss ought to be directed at a fundamental weakness in our political system, namely, that the top administrators of government are by law and procedure irresponsible. Only the President is really responsible. We have so concentrated responsibility in the hands of the President that except in war, the really competent and fine men of this country avoid public office.

In a recent press conference, the President explained to inquiring newspaper men that there can be no conflict of view between the President and the State Department because it is the President and not the State Department that fixes policy. He seemed to have to repeat this because Americans, no longer studying civics, do not precisely know how the American system of government functions. The secretary of state, for example, is responsible except to the President. The President alone is responsible.

The objection to Mr. Pauley is that his engagements in party politics and private business were normal but unwholesome. In a word, as treasurer of the Democratic National Committee, he raised funds for Franklin D. Roosevelt, the way funds were raised for Franklin D. Roosevelt or most other candidates. If Pauley misbehaved, Roosevelt misbehaved. Roosevelt was the principal, Pauley the agent. You can bet your bottom dollar that at no time did Pauley make a commitment which Roosevelt knew nothing about. Things are not done that way.

Harold Ickes now tells on Pauley. Why did not Honest Harold tell on Pauley when the collector first told him about how the money could be raised? Why did Honest Harold was so incensed at the time was he so silent at the time? Was it not an ordeal for Ickes to be silent? The point is that as long as Ickes wanted to remain in Roosevelt's cabinet, he had to be silent about the collections for Roosevelt's campaign funds. Ickes is not out of the cabinet by the will of the people but by permission of the President. That is the American system and makes for irresponsibility, also for lack of courage, lack of manliness and lack of truthfulness.

A cabinet officer or the head of a great "independent" agency of government is a servant, not of the people, but of the President. And even if he is appointed to a prolonged period, an adroit and popular President can edge him out by pin-pricks, needings, reorganizations of departments and numerous other devices.

In the case of George Allen, there can be no reason why he should be appointed to the R.E.C. He has neither the training, the experience, nor the background to handle the world's largest and most potent bank. But neither has Henry Wallace the experience, training nor capacity to handle the Department of Commerce that has to do with trade and commerce and business generally under the American capitalist system, which is repugnant to him. Nor does Chester Bowles, a 15 per cent advertising man, fit the position of head of I.P.A., which requires an understanding of the economic processes in production and distribution, a subject concerning which he had established no reputation whatsoever prior to his being placed at the head of it all.

In a word, had this country a ministerial system, so that the top policy-making and administrative officials were publicly responsible for their conduct, the various offices would attract men of calibre and position. Some Presidents chose their subordinates with care and with regard to national interest and men like Elihu Root and Charles Evans Hughes served in their cabinets, some Presidents use their appointive power to place cronies and collectors and private buffoons in office. It is a matter of taste.

As a citizen, I cannot see why if George Allen can be permitted to run the R.E.C., Ed Pauley should not be permitted to run the Navy; perhaps the whole business might be rectified by making "Butch" LaGuardia secretary of state and now that Earl Browder has been kicked out of Russia's American Communist Party, he might be made secretary of the Treasury. What difference would it make in our irresponsible system?

SCHOOL LUNCHES

In many schools and colleges subjects such as mathematics are taken up during the morning hours, and English, History, and the languages during the afternoon. This is because the brain is more keen in the morning after a night's sleep, and mathematics apparently requires more "attentiveness" than do these other subjects. What is wrong with the noon meal or lunch of school and college students?

There is a tendency to eat more cake pie cream puffs and other tins and tins and tins as they are handy and tasty. Often there is a very slim breakfast and a heavy meal at night to make up for not enough proteins—meat, eggs, fish—at breakfast and lunch.

A couple of years ago the Philadelphia Child Health Society published "Family Nutrition" which stated:

"The nutritional status of samples of the population, has been measured by objective, precise methods during the past half-dozen years, and the results have indicated that an even larger percentage of people in all walks of life than had been stated in the most extravagant estimates, are suffering from the results of faulty nutrition."

As most of us were of the opinion that there has been more knowledge of nutrition gained during the past twenty years than at any other time in history this statement might well be challenged. Unfortunately, however, it is true.

A method of combating poor nutrition with good food and nutrition lessons is the school lunch program.

"One of the best meals served is known as the 'Ole breakfast', consisting of milk, bread or biscuits, butter and raw fruit or vegetables, all of which require no preparation or cooking in school. The cost of this meal is about nine cents. The results of these 'Ole breakfasts' have been noted in the betterment of health and alertness of pupils."

It will be noted that the 'Ole breakfast is much the same as Dr. McCullum's "protective" diet, which consists of dairy products and raw fruits and vegetables.

with certain other nutritional elements. Such facts now, the world over, are coming to be required reading, and also required eating where this is possible.

It Might as Well Be Fall (Election Time)

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Amsterdam, Feb. 12.—There could be no better way of giving you our outstanding impression of Holland than to introduce you to the widow of Werverschoef, for she represents the stoutness of heart and self-sacrifice which brought this little lovely country of canals and windmills through the frightfulness of the Hitlerite occupation.

I am not going to tell you her name, for she is not famous or even widely known, though thousands who suffered under Nazi brutality surely remember her in their prayers for her good deeds. Anyway the name does not matter, for she is a symbol.

Mrs. Mack and I discovered the widow of Werverschoef quite by accident. The story really began in Amsterdam as we were starting on a trip northward by motor.

Our guide pointed out that the highway was being taken daily by throngs of city dwellers who could not get food in Amsterdam and in desperation turned out into the country in search of something to eat among the farms. They called it "The Hunger March." In it were people of all ages and conditions—from old men and women to babies in prams, from beggars to folk carrying valuable jewelry for barter trade.

Always Ready to Help
Our chauffeur remarked that he had made the 25 mile hunger march several times. He added quite incidentally that he had found a friend in a Werverschoef farm who always was ready to help the needy. Mrs. Mack and I asked him if he would introduce us to his benefactor and thus it came about that we finally knocked at the door of a tidy farmhouse and were given a warm welcome.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Ellenville, Feb. 12.—The Rev. John C. Eason and a group of members of the Tuxis Club of the Methodist Church attended services in the Stone Ridge Methodist Church Sunday evening. The junior choir of the Ellenville Methodist Church rendered an anthem and the Rev. Mr. Eason addressed the group.

Mr. and Mrs. William Comtois, Roger Comtois and Miss Virginia Comtois, of Comstock, were weekend guests at the home of Mr. Comtois's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Osterhout, of Scarsdale, N. Y. Mr. Comtois, who has been stationed in New York, also visited at the Osterhout home during the weekend.

Mrs. Otto Johnson, who has been spending several weeks in Ellenville with Mr. and Mrs. Edmund H. Zupp and in Napanoch with Mr. and Mrs. William H. Johnson, returned to her home in Highland on Saturday, somewhat improved after having been ill with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert John, who was born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Evans of the village at the Veterans' Memorial Hospital on Tuesday, February 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Loucks and the parents of a son, their second, born at the Benedictine Hospital in Kingston on January 20. The new baby has been named Al.

Mrs. Howard Dixon was given a surprise birthday party at the regular meeting of the Robt. Dixon of Girl Scouts. Miss Claire Dixon was a guest at the meeting.

Attorney and Mrs. Raymond G. Cox are enjoying a vacation and are spending part of the time in New York City.

Private William A. Dawson who has been stationed at Fort Dix, Pa., has arrived at his home here for an 18-day furlough, after which he will report at Camp

We were surprised to find that our farmer was a woman—a smiling, middle aged Dutch housewife surrounded by children.

Well, we saw the family pictures and talked about everything excepting the subject which she kept evading—her benefactions. It was only when we were visiting her big cow barn—for she is a dairy farmer—that she inadvertently gave us a chance to get her story by remarking that during the Nazi occupation Dutch underground agents lived beneath the great hayrack.

Risked Her Life

That broke the ice and with the chauffeur's help we got the story. The widow not only had risked her life to help the underground cause but in that same hayrack hunger marchers slept every night, unaware of the agents beneath them.

Daily the widow took in these poor people, sometimes 20 or more at a time, but as she remarked simply: "They needed help."

She would place a place for them to sleep but they warmed themselves by her kitchen stove and she fed them as best she could from her supplies without cost. Even when she did not have sufficient food for her own family she still shared her home.

So her good deeds continued until they mounted into many thousands and these in turn benefited so many needy folk that figures fail us. Most certainly it was through such as she that the Netherlands bore the torture of the Hitlerites. Likely fame will find her out, but it is pleasant to think of her as she waved us through a window while her youngsters pressed eager noses against the panes—the unknown widow of Werverschoef who typifies the heart of Holland.

"At Century's Turn"

By H. L. VAN DEUSEN

Kingston's rat population in April, 1925, was estimated at 27,000, by H. T. Pitts of Buffalo, who had a crew of three men busy depopulating the city of the pests.

Each rat, he said, ate about half a cent's worth of food a day, and it cost Kingston to maintain its rat population at the rate of $1.82 per rat per year, or approximately $50,000 yearly to feed the rodent population.

Mr. Pitts said he based his estimate on surveys made by the government which showed that in cities the size of Kingston it was estimated that there was one rat to every resident.

Turning from rats to baseball the Kingston Colonials opened the 1946 baseball season at the Fair Grounds, now the municipal stadium, on April 18, under the management of Jack Robins and Matty Deegan.

Their opponents were the widely known D. & H. Generals, who had played in this city a number of times. The Generals annexed the opening game by a score of 7 to 6.

Rossback tossed them over for the Generals with Herbst behind the plate, while Morgan did the honors for the locals with Jack Robins catching his slants.

Mayor Morris Block opened the game by throwing over the first ball.

The other Kingston players that day were Mercer, Joe Hoffman, Matty Deegan, Bob Coyle, McDermott, McCue and Hammond.

The Colonials presented a natty appearance in their new uniforms of white.

Early in 1925, Mayor Morris Block at a meeting of the Board of Public Works, had suggested that one way to eliminate traffic congestion at the Broadway crossing was the construction of a vehicular tunnel under the railroad tracks at South Sterling street.

At the board meeting on April 28, of that year, a communication was read from J. G. Brennan, engineer of grade crossings for the New York Central Lines, in which he estimated the cost of such a tunnel would be $150,000, and recommended that it might be more useful to use that amount toward the cost of eliminating the proposed Broadway railroad crossing.

City Engineer John F. Halahan, who had prepared the plans for the proposed tunnel at South Sterling street, did not agree with Mr. Brennan's figures of cost, and said he estimated the tunnel could be built for $70,000.

The board after discussing the question at length decided to press the matter of having the proposed tunnel constructed.

Mayor Block on April 20, 1925, appointed Attorney Thomas F. Coughlin as special city judge to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Robert G. Groves, which became effective on May 1 of that year.

Twenty and Ten Years Ago

February 13, 1926.—A shooting at Milton landed Anthony Pantuskie in St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh with a bullet wound in his chest, and his alleged assailant in the Ulster county jail.

Zero weather still gripped the city.

Kingston Consolidated Railroad Co. received word that the new buses for the bus line would be shipped from Chicago on February 22.

February 13, 1936.—Wendell Scherer died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Edward J. Perry on First avenue. For years he had been a well known resident of Connelly.

Ice in Hudson river averaged from 18 inches to three feet in thickness. Ferry service between Kingston and Rhinecliff had been suspended for several weeks owing to the heavy ice.

Heavy snow storm broke over city and county, blocking roads, with huge drifts.

Public Sentiment on Strikes Bound to Give Republicans Edge in November Elections

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington, Feb. 13.—President Truman may or may not choose to run in 1948—the left-wingers are already trying to persuade him not to be a candidate—but November 1946 is much nearer and the whole House of Representatives and one-third of the United States Senate will be put up for election.

If the Republicans have any sense left they will not waste time making campaign speeches or soliciting campaign funds. All they need to do is call attention to what is happening in Congress and then wait for the votes to be counted and they will find that in the Democratic strongholds of Pittsburgh, Philadelphia and New York and elsewhere, the shift to the opposite party will be amazing.

For the public is sick and tired of the Democratic party's indifference to the need for some legislation to prevent strikes. The Democratic leadership in the senate is stalling on the matter of labor legislation. The house has acted promptly, though it will be noted that the Republican party made that step possible.

The country is suffering from a wave of irresponsibility on the part of certain employers and employees organizations.

Vital facilities are tied up either by refusing the reasonable demands of labor or by labor's insistence on demands that are unreasonable. It seems incredible that the principle of the consent of the governed, should be unable to exercise its judgment and bring about the passage of legislation to limit strikes, especially in fields closely related to the public safety.

But judging from the behavior of the Democratic party which controls the senate, there is no alternative available to the American people except to vote out of office the party in power or to make their contemplated action players have been able to accomplish ahead of time the work which will take many years of effort.

THE BRITISH LOAN— WITHOUT EMOTION

Since Congress has got to make a decision for us, one way or the other, about the British loan, let's set down the arguments pro and con. I doubt whether matters of reason will have much to do with it. More than likely, sentiments, prejudices, theories and politics, and a hot British public relations campaign, will have more influence than solid reasoning.

Anyhow, it's fun just to set arguments down cold, pro and con.

Reason for Voting for the Loan.

(1) Foreign Trade
The foreign trade on the pre-war pattern of some other pattern must be restored. To restore it, we need somebody outside to buy goods from us, when he will be able to use the credit to any war basis. To restore Britain's buying and selling, somebody must extend to the Government of Britain enormous credits. That means us.

Con: There is no proof positive that foreign trade on the pre-war pattern or any other pattern in the world could be restored. The foreign trade of the pre-war period was a reflection of the conditions of that period, as the foreign trade of any period is the reflection of its particular conditions. The conditions which created the foreign trade of the pre-war period were the existence of great areas in the world not sufficiently industrialized to manufacture the goods their buying power, however meager, could purchase, but having raw materials in surplus wanted by industrial countries.

The foreign trade of the pre-war era pre-supposed market populations that could be relied upon to be compelled to buy the surplus of communities doing manufacturing, or each raising one dominant agricultural product. Great Britain was the key nation in foreign trade before the war not because she was Great Britain, but because of world conditions. Before the war, Great Britain was losing out the greatest trading nation in the world because these conditions were already changing. Already the United States had surpassed Britain in volume of trade, and Japan was close on her heels in the name of "old reserves."

But respect for ourselves and the primary law of logic should demand that before we lend to either or both of two great powers at odds, we require that all causes of conflict between the rivals be settled, and the proof of the settlement be shown in the passage of time before we start putting brass or gold knuckles on both sides. There's the essence of the argument, pro and con, leaving out the axe-grinding and tear-jerking.

Russian Relief Closes Headquarters Today But Will Continue Collections and Sewing

One of the most active of the local wartime services, the American Society for Russian Relief, is closing its offices at 272 Fair street today. However, the Kingston Committee will continue to help in the rehabilitation of the Soviet Union by collecting new and used clothing and books and also by supporting the sewing and knitting projects.

In continuing this work the Y.W.C.A., 14 Henry street has generously offered to act as depot for the collection of clothing and books. The knitting and sewing projects will be carried on at the residence of Mrs. Henry L. Bibby, 97 Wall street. Anyone wishing to participate in this work may call Mrs. Bibby, phone 454 for further information.

Since its organization in 1943, the local branch of the American Society for Russian War Relief has sent gifts in kind to the National Headquarters in New York city valued at $19,109. These shipments have included over 540 household kits desperately needed by the Russian people who were returning to the areas destroyed by the retreating Nazis. Also included in local shipments were 250 knitted articles, more than 440 sewed articles and many tons of both used and new clothing, as well as books and food.

The accomplishments of the local committee, which compare favorably with those of cities many times larger than Kingston, were made possible through the wholehearted cooperation of both individuals and organizations. Dr. Henry Lambert Bibby and Dr. Frederic W. Holcomb, co-chairmen of the local committee, stated last evening that they and their committee wished to thank all the people who have helped sustain this program during the past three years, and hope that they will continue to lend their support to the projects which are being continued.

College Club Has Program Of Drama and Music

A program of music and a one-act fantasy play was presented at the College Women's Club meeting Tuesday night. The group met in the chapel of the First Dutch Reformed Church for the meeting. Miss Madeline Tarrant directed Miss Ruth Hasbrouck and Miss Phyllis Decker in a dramatic dialogue which contrasted the medieval and modern. The musical program arranged by Mrs. Herbert Bird was presented by Robert Woltersteig, piano; Mrs. Arthur J. Laidlaw, mezzo-soprano; and Mrs. Raymond Rignall, recorder.

The program was as follows: Piano solo—Toccata in D Minor Bach-Block Mr. Woltersteig

Old English Songs: Sigh No More Ladies... Stevens Love Me Little, Love Me Long Mr. Woltersteig

Gather Your Rose Buds While Ye May... Lawes Mrs. Laidlaw and Mrs. Rignall Recorder solos: Pastoral... Bach A New Song Called Hunting Ye Bottle... 17th Century The Happy Butcher's Wives... Carey

Mrs. Rignall accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd LeFever Piano solos: Little White Donkey... Ibert Goliwog's Cake Walk... Debussy

Mr. Woltersteig For encores, Mrs. Laidlaw sang "Two Marionettes" by Cook and Mr. Woltersteig played, "Prelude in A Major," Chopin.

Mrs. George Dungee conducted a short business meeting at which reports of the secretary, Miss Isabelle Malone, and treasurer, Mrs. Ida K. Sherman, were given. Miss Irene Kinkade, chairman of the scholarship fund, reported several possibilities for a special club project for next year. After an informal discussion the members voted to present a speaker or entertainer of interest to the general public. A definite decision will be made later.

Announcement was made of the special study group meetings for February. The Current Events group will meet February 28 at the home of Mrs. John L. MacKinnon with China as the subject for discussion. The Book Group will meet with Mrs. Harry Halverson, February 26.

The next meeting of the club will be March 5 instead of March 12. The program will be arranged by the Book Group.

The evening closed with a social hour. Hostesses were Mrs. Alfred J. Bruckert, chairman; Miss Agnes Scott Smith; Mrs. William F. Murray; Mrs. William H. Hill; Mrs. Albert Kurdt; Mrs. Robert Kershaw and Mrs. Edward Hughes.

Good Taste Today

IT'S A WISE WIFE!

An especially appealing problem is described in this letter: "When an accident has confined a wife to a wheel chair (perhaps permanently), what can she do about the following situation: She loves her husband dearly and has every reason to trust in his love for her. Yet she cannot help being distressed by a young girl in the neighborhood who has the habit of dropping in all the time, plainly trying to impress him and paying very little attention to the wife or the children! As already said, the wife has absolutely no cause for doubting her husband. Furthermore, he does not encourage this girl, but the situation remains. The girl is as attractive as she is brazen and apparently has no intention of giving up before she has stirred up some response in the husband. There is no use in talking to the girl's parents as they are not especially interested in what she does and are themselves hardly ever home."

The hardest thing that she has to do is to force herself to think of the girl as nothing at all and show her manner that she has no fear or even thought of her. Any evidence of the wife's unhappiness is just adding oil to the fire of self-satisfaction that the girl is trying to build. The wife must try never to fall short in the many qualities for which her husband loves her. She must be sympathetic, understanding and apparently unconscious of this fly in the amber.

A Hostess Dress

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it improper to wear a long simple crepe dress at home when having friends to dinner who in all probability will arrive in street-length dresses? Their dresses will be of the afternoon type and all very much more elaborate than mine except that this dress I refer to has a long skirt. Inasmuch as I am staying indoors and they have to go out, shouldn't my long skirt be appropriate as long as the dress is otherwise extremely simple.

Answer: A hostess dress is always a long dress and if a hostess dress is not proper to wear when one is a hostess, when can one wear it? In short, a long skirt is proper.

Claude D. Pareis Have Golden Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Pareis, 465 Union avenue, Elizabeth, N. J., formerly of Ulster county, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Friday, February 1, at a dinner given in their honor by their children in the Terrace Room of the Hotel New York.

Mr. Pareis, who is retired, is 75. Mrs. Pareis, the former Kathryn M. Van DeMark of Sterling, Ill., is 74. They were married February 1, 1896, in Brown Station and have lived since in Elizabeth. Mr. Pareis was born in Malden.

Present at the dinner were two daughters and a son, Mrs. Harry Hempel, Miss Hazel B. Pareis and Clifford Pareis and three grandchildren—the Misses Ruth K. and Harriette Hempel and Alan Van DeMark Pareis. Other guests were Harry Hempel, Mrs. Clifford Pareis, Mr. and Mrs. Anstruther W. Dunbar and Miss Lillian Dunbar.

OLDEST POSTWOMAN QUITS

Miss Edith Curtis, of Wadbridge England, recently put on her slippers and retired as Cornwall's oldest postwoman, after having worn out 70 pairs of shoes in walking 100,000 miles—equal to four times around the world. "Edie," as she is known, retired at 60 after 40 years in the service. When she started in 1906, she got $1.30 a week for hiking daily over seven miles of rough country. When she retired, she was getting $5.20 a week for doing 11 miles a day.

SUGAR HOARDING HINTED

A small scandal threatened to break in Mexico when railroad interests let it be known that there were 1,445 tons of sugar warehoused in Perote, where it had been taken, presumably by a sugar hoarding monopoly from Japapa and Villa Cardel. If it continues to be stored for any length of time instead of being put on the market, the price will be prohibitive, investigators believe. In view of Mexico's sugar shortage, efforts are being made to learn the sugar owner's plans.

Steel Paper Says Strike Will End In Near Future

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—The steel wage-price issue has been settled, The Iron Age, national metalworking paper, said today, and "the strike is expected to be ended probably this week, or early next week."

Steel workers would get the 18½ cents an hour increase that President Truman suggested, the paper said, and the steel industry would obtain an average of $5 a ton on carbon and alloy steels.

Disagreement over the retroactive feature of the wage increase would be the only bar to the workers returning to their jobs within a few days, The Iron Age said, adding that the President wanted the advance retroactive to January 1 and the industry held out for the date on which the men returned to work.

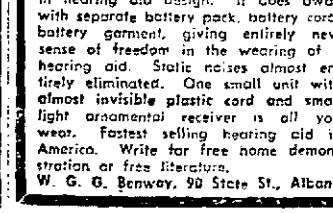

Announcement of the steel price agreement has been held in abeyance pending completion of the administration's broad pricing policy, the paper said.

The strike has meant loss of approximately 6,000,000 tons of steel and $60,000,000 in wages of basic steel employees, Iron Age estimated.

The price advance will bring the industry about $275,000,000 a year and the wage increase will cost about $163,000,000, according to the paper, the difference falling "far short of what the industry has claimed is necessary to make up for past accumulated losses."

Bills Proposed at Albany

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—A constitutional amendment to create a unicameral state legislature is sought by Sen. Francis J. Mahoney, New York city Democrat.

Mahoney proposed an amendment yesterday which would eliminate the present two-house system and create a single chamber to be known as the Assembly.

The Senate committee on codes, meanwhile, killed two anti-vivisection bills introduced by Sen. Richard A. DiCostanzo, New York city Republican.

Other bills introduced would: Permit state employees at least 24 days vacation with pay during each year of state service.

Reduce from six to five per cent the amount of the pari-mutuel pool at New York city race tracks which is paid to the state, provide for two per cent to New York city and the remainder to the racing associations; earmark "breaks" at all tracks and at harness meets for a state veterans' benefits pool.

Provide a minimum wage of $1-200 a year for all full time state employees.

Continue until July 1, 1947, commercial and business rent control in New York city, eliminating the present provision for fixing by arbitration rent in excess of emergency rent.

Allow reinstatement of an attorney, previously disbarred for at least three years for other than a felony conviction and who has an honorable record in the armed services, on evidence of good moral character.

Provide that prison guards appointed during the war from civil service lists and who have served for 2½ years shall acquire permanent status as of the date of the original appointment.

Decide Tonight
On Phone Strike
For Next Monday

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—Disclosure whether a nationwide telephone strike will be called next Monday by the National Federation of Telephone Workers (Ind.) may be made tonight at a meeting of an affiliated union, the Western Electric Employees Association (Ind.).

Alexander Eitman, attorney associated with counsel for several unions associated with the N.E.T.W., said last night that Federation President Joseph Beirne had promised "all-out" support of the 17,000 W.E.E.A. members, (W.E.E.A. struck January 3 in a wage dispute), and that Frank Fitzsimmons, W.E.E.A. president, would give details concerning the support at the union meeting.

The session is scheduled for 8 p. m. (E.S.T.) in Jersey City, N. J.

The attorney said the tieup would be similar to that which occurred last month when for three days many telephone workers refused to cross picket lines of the Association of Communication Equipment Workers, another N.E.T.W. affiliate.

The Equipment Workers, who set up picket lines around telephone exchanges in 44 states, returned to work after the telephone federation promised to conduct a poll to determine whether members wished to call a nationwide strike.

SPUD PICKER INVENTED

The aches and stiffness of the back caused by potato picking has long been a bane to the Irish and may have been partly responsible for the departure of so many workers from farms, Dublin observers remark in announcing that a young English farmer has patented a mechanical potato picker which sorts the tubers and puts each into an appropriate bag. The only drawback is that it is still too expensive for a poor man.

Democrats Act For More State Aid at Hearing

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—Democratic city officials, in full cry for more state aid, swept into the capitol today for a frontal assault on the Moore Commission program at a public hearing on Governor Dewey's budget.

Ready with counter fire at the hearing this afternoon were Republican defenders of the plan to establish a permanent system of state assistance to localities.

As a sample of what was cooking, Lazarus Joseph, New York city Comptroller and Democratic critic-in-chief of the Moore program, said in a statement that he had come, "not with hat in hand, but to demand from the state of New York the necessary funds to protect the citizens of the city of New York."

One Republican critic of the plan was listed as a speaker—Lawrence H. Cooke of Monticello, representing the Sullivan County Board of Supervisors. The board feels the program is unfair to its towns.

Meanwhile the State C.I.O. assailed Dewey's tax cut proposals as a gift to the rich.

In all, 68 persons were scheduled to discuss phases of Dewey's proposed record-high $555,000,000 budget.

such that it was "not surprising" some had been led to believe reports Truman would not seek reelection in 1948.

Brownell, in an address over the Mutual Broadcasting System last night, said:

"Only today the newspapers reported that Mr. Truman, after less than one year in office, had informed a group of high officials that he would not be a candidate for reelection in 1948. A few hours later the chairman of the national committee (Robert Hannegan) denied that Mr. Truman made any such statement."

"I do not pretend to know whether the newspapers or Mr. Hannegan were correct, but Mr. Truman's record since he entered the White House has been such that it is not surprising that credence should be given to the newspaper report I have mentioned."

Brownell added that "we are in another period of peril and uncertainty and it would be well if we had another Lincoln in the White House."

British Restore Order After Fierce Riots in Calcutta

Calcutta, Feb. 13 (AP)—British troops quieted rioting Hindus and Muslims in Calcutta today as the city's second outbreak of destruction followed a day of looting and burning after taking a toll of at least 22 dead and more than 200 injured. The soldiers were in control of the city.

The troops were called in last night after R. G. Casey, governor of Bengal, declared in a broadcast that the situation in Calcutta was such that the Army had to come to the aid of the civil power in order that order may be restored in Calcutta as quickly as possible.

Earlier Associated Press dispatches erroneously interpreted Casey's statement as a declaration of martial law.

Many of the city's shopping districts today were scenes of destruction. The transportation system remained paralyzed, but a few ricksha boys were reappearing.

Business establishments and homes of Europeans bore the brunt of the rioters' attack.

The rioting was in protest against the seven-year sentence passed on an officer of the Japanese-sponsored "Indian National Army."

Yesterday's injured included 18 U. S. soldiers and 20 policemen.

Want Parking Meters But Won't Install Them

Newburgh's Common Council Monday evening furnished City Manager Joseph A. Fogarty with a tough nut to crack, when they authorized him to purchase more than 100 parking meters, and then defeated an ordinance permitting their installation and operation.

Two weeks ago after months of agitation the Newburgh council tentatively approved an ordinance providing for installation of parking meters on certain sections of the business streets in that city.

Monday night they failed to approve the ordinance.

Ruth Gets Offer

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 13 (AP)—George Herman "Babe" Ruth has been offered a contract to manage the Manchester team in the New England League, C. Edward Bourassa, club president, announced today.

To make the offer attractive to the Babe, Bourassa said the club would be willing to pay a high salary for a class B league, and would ask other league clubs to pay a special bonus when Manchester played on the road.

American "Grass Roots" Locale Urged for U.N.O.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 13 (AP)—Henry R. Luce, publisher of Time, Life and Fortune, favors a site "nearer the grass roots of America" for the United Nations home region.

"The site they have chosen," he said, "would put them too close to New York and an erroneous conception of the nation."

Luce flew here last night after delivering a Lincoln Day address at Duke University, Durham, N. C., to join his wife, Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn.), who spoke at a Lincoln dinner.

Mrs. Luce was to return to Washington by plane today, while the publisher is taking his plane to Portland, Ore., to visit Palmer Hoyt prior to the latter's shift from The Oregonian to the Denver, Colo., Post.

Mrs. Luce, in her two addresses, asserted foreign policy abets tyranny by failing to take a stand against Russian policy in Europe.

Representative Luce proposed a three-point Republican program of raising the Negro's economic status, aiding governments abroad "where no man is slave and none master" and succoring the victims of war.

Secretary, to take over Ickes' duties pending the appointment of a permanent secretary.

Ickes' 2,000-word letter of resignation said of his testimony in opposition to the nomination of Pauley:

"I cannot accept the theory that I should have told the Senate Naval Affairs Committee anything less than the truth. I have no apologies for having done so, although I did regret the unhappy personal position in which I have involuntarily found myself."

"As to your statement that I might have been mistaken in my testimony my feeling is that, since you were not present at the hearing and presumably had not read the record, it was not proper for me, even although you be the President of the United States, to pass judgment on a question of veracity between Mr. Pauley and myself. After all, I am a member of your cabinet at your own request and I do not have a reputation for dealing recklessly with the truth, x x x"

Gave 'Full Explanation'

At the outset, Ickes apologized for the length of his letter but said he felt he owed Mr. Truman and the country "a full explanation" x x x "in view of the evidence that the political gnats in Washington are already swarming."

The White House, apparently beating Ickes to the break, announced that Ickes had turned in his resignation yesterday and that Mr. Truman's acceptance, effective Friday, is on the way.

ded on the turn and crashed into the guard rail, the chief said.

At the Kingston Hospital this morning the injured persons, with their condition, were listed as follows: Anadeo Cadaliery, 521 Harrison street, Passaic, N. J., condition fairly good; Lena Cadaliery, same address, condition, fair; Emma Ubaldo, 70 Jersey street, Paterson, N. J., fair; Emily Danicani, 2724, N. W. Second avenue, Miami, Fla., good.

Mr. Cadaliery was said to have been the most seriously injured, sustaining injuries about the head and eye, but all sustained severe lacerations and bruises and were suffering from shock.

The police were told that the party was on its way to attend a wedding in Schenectady.

Food Handlers Will Meet Next Tuesday

The first of two meetings of food handlers in Kingston will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Tuesday afternoon, February 19, at 2:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Board of Health in cooperation with the State Health Department and the New York State Food Commission.

While these meetings are primarily for employers and employees of eating and drinking establishments, others interested in the subject may also attend the meeting.

The closing meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon, February 26, at the hotel.

There will be demonstrations, speakers and pictures on the proper methods of safe handling of food, dish washing, and the improvement of service from a health standpoint.

Among those who will take part in the program: Dr. John F. Larkin, health officer, Miss Helen L. Diehl, nutritionist of the New York Food Commission, Dr. Berwin F. Mattison, district state health officer, Dr. J. S. Taylor, director of the city laboratory, Henry W. Scoralick, district milk sanitarian, and Charles W. Shultis, sanitary inspector of the city health department.

It is expected that every employer or employee of the eating and drinking establishments in Kingston will be in attendance.

Meeting on Auto Workers' Charges Postponed Today

Parley Indicated Between Operators and the C.I.O. on Wage Contracts

Detroit, Feb. 13 (AP)—A scheduled resumption of the National Labor Relations Board hearing on C.I.O. United Auto Workers charges that General Motors Corp. had failed to bargain in good faith with the union was suddenly postponed this morning.

There was no immediate explanation of the postponement but the action gave rise to reports that another managing of the management and union on the wage and contract issues was being arranged.

Gerald D. Reilly, trial examiner, said he had postponed the Board hearing after a telephone conference with "my colleagues in the Department of Labor in Washington."

The "primary reason" for the postponement, he said, was to permit a resumption of negotiations between G.M. and the union.

Reilly added, however, that he knew of no arrangement for further settlement conferences. The N.L.R.B. hearing, he said, was postponed for today only.

The union yesterday turned down a management offer of an increase of 18 1/2 cents an hour (16 1/2 per cent) and Walter P. Reuther, U.A.W.-C.I.O. vice-president, immediately rejected it. Leaving the negotiating conference Reuther said the union representatives would not return until G.M. was prepared to meet the 19 1/2 cent (17 1/2 per cent) hourly increase recommended by a presidential fact-finding board.

James F. Dewey, special Labor Department mediator, who has been seeking for more than a fortnight to effect settlement of the 85-day old strike that has idled 175,000 G.M. production workers, denied he had sought adjournment of the N.L.R.B. hearing.

He said he was going to "confer with each side separately back and forth and try to get this worked out." He added that he was "going to try to find a new approach to the issues."

General Motors' offer of an 18 1/2 cents an hour increase bettered its last offer, made on November 7, by five cents. The management offered the strikers the alternative of returning to work under a proposed interim contract until details of a new agreement could be completed, or having the wage increase become effective on the date they return to work.

The company proposed a dues checkoff clause, but reiterated its objections to continuance of a union membership maintenance clause in the contract.

Kingston Has Hail, Rain Storm This Morning

A hail and rain storm broke over Kingston shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, as the official city thermometer was registering 36 degrees. At 10:30 a. m. the thermometer was recording 40 degrees.

Temperatures in the city yesterday ranged from a low of 23 to a high of 41 degrees, during the afternoon. Mild temperatures continued to prevail throughout the night with the official thermometer recording 31 degrees at midnight.

V.A. Seeks Additional G.I. College Rooms

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Veterans Administration is going to ferret out alternate schools for the veterans who can't find room in the colleges of their choice.

A unit in each of the agency's 54 regional offices will compile information about 1,500 to 2,000 junior colleges and four-year schools, an Administration official said today.

The number of veterans studying under the G.I. Bill of Rights increased sharply in January — from 91,176 at the first of the month to 136,383 at month's end, Administration records showed today.

However, 1,200 colleges still had room for 400,000 more students.

Arlington Nips Maroons 29-28; Glaser Scores 15

Kiamen Reserves Shine in Close Battle at Local Court; Jayvees
Lose by 30 to 27

Minus the services of its top three scoring line, the Kingston High School basketball team dropped a surprisingly low 29 to 28 decision to Arlington High last night at the municipal auditorium before a large turnout of excited patrons. Going into the game as computer underdogs, the Kiamen staged a brilliant show all the way and although losing, gained revenge for Arlington's earlier win by 49 to 29 in December.

Coach G. Warren Kias, with 11 Weavers and "Red" Turner, the sidelines due to assorted reasons—started Glaser and Lowe at forward and Bob Miller and Len Sackler in the backcourt. Glaser was the big show of the evening for Kingston as he ripped the cords for 15 points. Ken Lowe tossed in six in the third session the Maroons lost McCordie via the foul route and his absence was felt in the local's lineup.

After taking a slim 16 to 17 lead at halftime, the Maroons managed to keep pace with the Jordanmen from Arlington in the third stanza with the score standing 21-all at the end of that period. But in the final chukker Arlington found its groove and managed to go out in front.

With Arlington leading 25-21, Kingston found itself as Glaser scored a pushup and a free one to make it 25-24. Quick's goal pushed Kingston ahead 26-25. 17 Angelo's foul shot and Lovell's goal made it Arlington 28-26. Bob Gleason's free throw added another to Arlington's score for the night. With barely time left for another play, Lowe tossed in a set shot making the final scoreboard tally read 29 to 28.

Jayvees Lose Too
Coach Jim Tobin's jayvee squad lost out to the Arlington juniors in the prelim by a 30-27 score. Kiamen and Hinton were high for the losers with 12 apiece while the winner's scoring was equally divided among the six players that saw action.

New Cornell Training House

Erection of Cornell University's new athletic training house has been assured by gifts totaling more than $180,000. It was announced today by the school's department of public information in Ithaca. The structure, which will be named the Jack Moakley House in honor of Cornell's famous 82-year-old track and cross country coach, will provide individual sleeping quarters and a dining room for 60 members of visiting teams, bedrooms and lounges for visiting coaches, and for sports writers, training tables for Cornell teams, a main lounge and a trophy room for Cornell's athletic records. Moakley, now in his 47th year of active coaching at the university, has brought the Big Red team 10 intercollegiate track championships and 16 intercollegiate cross country titles.

Ramblers Wallop Hawks by 62 to 24 In 'Y' Court Loop

Shamrocks and Crescents Also Win Decisions in Cage Battles Tuesday Night

Fresh from a first half championship run, the Ramblers lost little time in getting off to a good start in the second and final round of the Y.M.C.A. Basketball League last night at the 'Y' courts by smashing out a 62 to 24 victory over the Hawks. J. Rowland paced the winners with 14 markers. Albany tossed in 12 and McElrath and Smith followed with 11 apiece. Emmick counted 13 for the losers.

In another Y.M.C.A. League tilt the Shamrocks, with Johnny Perry flipping in 15 points, downed the I.A.C. team by 44 to 31. J. Costello tipped the cords for 16 in a losing cause.

The final attraction found the Crescents taking a slim 48 to 44 decision away from the strong Catbirds. Ten Brock sparked the Crescents with 16 markers and Marable followed with 11. Thomas' 16 and Hanson's 13 were high for the Catbirds.

In The Pocket

CHARLIE TIANO
WOMEN'S BOWLING
The topic of conversation around the Midway Tavern was bowling, but came a sudden switch to bowling and therein was conceived a sermon on women's suffrage in ten-pins.

Eva Stoley, of Saugerties, was speaking of the haudseps under which most women launch a bowling career. Miss Stoley is qualified to speak with considerable authority. Her 150-plus average in the Saugerties loops is prima-facie evidence that she has a better than casual acquaintance with the art of knocking down pins.

The theme of Miss Stoley's testimony was that most of the girls get off on the wrong foot. Will anybody in the house stand up and deny that?

IT'S THE START THAT COUNTS
The average woman who doesn't have a husband, sweetheart or friend to help her over the rough spots in the beginning of her career gets off to a horrible start. . . . Most girls are plagued with an inferiority complex and need moral support and coaching. . . . They worry about how they look. . . . They think everybody in the alleys is watching them. . . . This is a fallacy, because most people in the alleys are knocking themselves out trying to get that score over the 100 mark. . . . Then there is the girl who dresses for bowling as she would for a formal tea. . . . Proprietors should pay more attention to women and provide instructors or classes. . . . It would pay long dividend. . . . Can't laugh off the fact that bowling really started to grow when the women came in and forced the alleys out of basements and saloons. . . . The modern, palatial establishments are a tribute to the feminine touch.

Women discourage quickly if they shoot low scores continuously. . . . Early coaching in the fundamentals would perpetuate many a career that is nipped in its infancy. . . . Some girls stay with a light ball too long. . . . Ditch it for a heavier one as soon as you have mastered footwork and confidence. . . . You wouldn't hit your husband with a pie, if a rolling pin were available. . . . A 15-pound ball is bound to knock over more pins than a 10-pounder. . . . The WIBC has done wonders in organizing the females. . . . The

New York's Sports Schedule Resumes After Brief Delay

70th Annual Dog Show Goes on Today After 18-Hour Ban on All Amusements

New York, Feb. 13 (AP)—New York's thriving sports business, momentarily staggered by Mayor William O'Dwyer's shutdown order, returned to normal today following the lifting of the 18-hour ban on places of amusement.

The major sports casualty of the short-lived edict was the 70th annual Westminster Kennel Club Dog Show which had attracted 2,589 prize pooches from all over the nation for its two-day stand in Madison Square Garden. Unable to gather the fanciers together to put the program into motion last night, the W.K.C. officials decided to telescope the whole affair into one grand session starting at 9 a. m. today.

Golden Gloves Tonight
None of last night's shows were cancelled outright and two of them—the New York Golden Glove semi-finals and the Pennsylvania-Columbia eastern intercollegiate league basketball tilt—will be staged tonight.

At the Metropolitan Intercollegiate Board track championships were to be held on Columbia's outdoor field, the athletes were forced to put off the title competition until March 16 because city officials wouldn't permit the use of the locker and shower rooms.

The Park Arena boxing card, featuring heavyweights Lee Co. Murray of South Norwalk, Conn., and Larry Lane, Trenton, N. J., Negro, was moved back to Thursday night and the Broadway Arena's fight program was postponed indefinitely.

Other events which were scheduled to be held yesterday and were put off until later were the New York University-St. Francis basketball game; Columbia's entire A.M.U. Day sports program which included a fencing and swimming meet as well as the basketball game and track program; the finals of the Metropolitan Indoor Tennis tournament and the Metropolitan Squash Racquets doubles championship.

Lightweights Albie Stolz and Willie Joyce, who are matched for the Garden Friday night, returned to New York after putting in some training licks in New Jersey gyms.

POW SEEKS FIGHT
Italian prisoners of war in South Africa where they are said to have received better treatment than most places, caused a stir recently when one of them challenged the national welterweight champion, Laurie Stevens, to a prize fight. Stevens promptly answered that he was not fighting any prisoners of war for the reasons that he would not sanction such a fight.

Medical Research Group Here Plans Educational Drive

ands of protests from citizens of the city and county have poured into Albany addressed to the senators and assemblymen urging them to defeat the bills that have been introduced.

The Ulster County Medical Society, it was stated, has endorsed the formation of an Ulster County Committee of the Friends of Medical Research, and the movement also has the approval of the dental and veterinarian organizations of the Hudson river valley, as well as the entire state.

Nearly Passed

Attention was directed to the fact that last year the anti-vivisectionists had introduced a bill, which was passed in the senate but killed in the assembly, and that a well organized campaign was actively engaged in attempting to have similar legislation approved this year.

It is to use every effort to defeat any future legislation of this nature, that a permanent organization was necessary not only in Ulster county, but throughout the state, it was stated.

The Steering Committee

The members of the steering committee named last night are: Dr. J. S. Taylor, Dr. James C. Crandall, Dr. Maurice Silk, Dr. Fred Voss, Dr. Harold L. Rakov, Dr. B. W. Gifford, the Rev. William J. McVey, Superintendent of Schools Arthur J. Ladlaw, Monsignor Martin J. Drury, Rabbi Herbert Bloom, H. L. Van Deusen, Dr. Charles O'Reilly, Miss Katherine M. Murphy, executive secretary of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association and Mrs. John B. Krom.

Type of Protests Sent

Miss Murphy called attention to the fact that the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association had already taken active steps to combat anti-vivisection legislation, and at its last meeting had adopted resolutions which had been forwarded to the senators and assemblymen.

In addition some 4,500 postcard protests signed by Ulster county voters have already been mailed to Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Assemblyman John F. Wadlin.

The cards stated briefly that the signer wished to register a protest against the passage of a law prohibiting scientific research on dogs. "I am informed that physicians and research workers seeking to increase knowledge and to find the cause and treatment of still unsolved medical problems are retarded by such a law. The services of the dog were indispensable in the work with insulin, liver treatment in pernicious anemia, discovery of blood plasma to save soldiers' lives, and with rabies and distemper in dogs' the protests read.

Bridge, Ferry Bills Approved By Lions Club

A resolution favoring the bridge and ferry bills now before the State Legislature and an elimination contest to select a pianist to represent the club at the annual convention, were the items of business offered for consideration of the Lions Club at the regular Tuesday dinner. George E. Yerry, Jr., who recently was chosen president to fill the unexpired term of Rabbi Herbert Bloom, presided.

Approval of the proposed ferry and bridge service was unanimous and Attorney Frank Martocci was authorized to draw up a suitable resolution for presentation to the legislature.

The contest to select the club's best piano player brought five contestants to display their skill, and the Lions were treated to a varied selection of music—played in "various methods." Roger Baer was finally designated as the local club's choice to represent them at the state convention in June. Thursday evening, February 14, the annual Ladies' Night banquet of the Lions Club will be held at The Barn. A special entertainment program has been arranged for the occasion, and dinner will be served at 6:30.

Marine League Is Planned in City

James Cave Leads Move to Organize Corps Vets

A move is under way to organize a Detachment of the Marine Corps League to serve present and former members of the United States Marine Corps in Ulster county.

James Cave is heading the organizational movement and a meeting to which all Marines in Ulster county are invited, has been called for Friday, February 15, at 8 p. m. The meeting will be held in the Elks Club, Fair street, Kingston. A temporary organization will be formed, following which application for a charter will be made. Also Marines present at this organization will be asked to decide upon a name for the new Detachment.

The Marine Corps League, which is national in scope, was founded in New York city November 10, 1922, the 147th birthday of the Marine Corps. In August, 1937, it was incorporated by Act of Congress.

A non-political, non-sectarian and non-partisan organization, it is designed to perpetuate the history of the Marine Corps, to assist whenever possible men who have served or now are serving in the Marine Corps, their widows and orphans, and to cement the ties of comradeship and friendship which bind Marines everywhere.

JAPS STRIP SHRINE

The Japs stripped and looted the shrine on Sancian Island, China, marking the spot where St. Francis Xavier died, according to Bishop Adolph Paschang, of the Maryknoll Mission in Kongmoon. Father Robert Cairns, who was in charge of Sancian Island, was seized by the Japs soon after Pearl Harbor and is presumed to be dead. Most cathedrals were stripped by the Japs, the Bishop declared.

OFFICE CAT

That Grand and Glorious Feeling Of all the happy feelings There is none happier I guess Than when you "pop the question" And have the girl say "yes."

She—Do you believe that every man gets the wife that Heaven intended for him?
He—I dare not doubt it; otherwise my religious belief would be shattered.

Two young people were walking along the road together. One was a young woman, the other a handsome farm lad.

She—What is your belief, pray?
He—I believe that men are punished in this world for their sins.

The farm lad was carrying a pail on his back, holding a chicken in one hand, a cane in the other, and leading a goat.

Perhaps the best motto for the pattern of life you can give your boy is:

Girl—I'm afraid to walk here with you. You might try to kiss me.

Always do more than you promise rather than promise more than you can do.

It is only natural that a girl would prefer beauty rather than brains for the average man can see much better than he can think.

Two rival storekeepers were talking about their business:

First—When does your opening sale close?
Second—When your closing-out sale opens.

The homely girl wishes nature had spent a little more time fussing about her beauty and less about the park.

Blow your dough—prices go up where comets gather. Save the "ready"—prices steady; Which way had you rather?

Easy-Going Chap—My wife gives me a pain the way she tries to make a big muscle man out of me.

Friend—You're lucky. Mabel is trying to make a housemaid out of me.

SEVEN PROVES LUCKY

Seven reasons convince Lieutenant Thomas William Pearson, of Wisbech, England, that seven is his lucky number. He was married on the seventh day of the seventh month and promoted to full lieutenant on the seventh day of a seventh month after serving in seven ranks from gunner to battery sergeant-major and lieutenant (the raised the second lieutenant). His promotion to regimental sergeant-major came on the seventh day of the month. Since joining the Army he has served in seven different countries. And his age is 37.

Russian Relief Closes Headquarters Today But Will Continue Collections and Sewing

One of the most active of the local wartime services, the American Society for Russian Relief, is closing its offices at 272 Fair street today. However, the Kingston Committee will continue to help in the rehabilitation of the Soviet Union by collecting new and used clothing and books and also by supporting the sewing and knitting projects.

In continuing this work the S. A. S. R. R. has generously offered to act as depot for the collection of clothing and books. The knitting and sewing projects will be carried on at the residence of Mrs. Henry L. Babby, 97 Wall street. Anyone wishing to participate in this work may call Mrs. Babby, phone 431 for further information.

Since its organization in 1943 the local branch of the American Society for Russian War Relief has sent gifts in kind to the National Headquarters in New York city valued at $19,109. These shipments have included over 500 household kits desperately needed by the Russian people who were suffering from the effects of the retreating Nazis. Also included in these shipments were 27,000 knit articles, more than 400 sewed articles and many tons of both used and new clothing, as well as books and food.

The accomplishments of the local committee, which compare favorably with those of other times larger than Kingston, were made possible through the wholehearted cooperation of both individuals and organizations. In the past three years, and hope that they will continue to lend their support to the projects which are being continued.

Good Taste Today

By Emily Post
(Author of "Etiquette," "Children Are People," etc.)

IT'S A WISE WIFE!

An especially appealing problem is described in this letter: "When an accident has confined a wife to a wheel chair (perhaps permanently), what can she do about the following situation: She loves her husband dearly and has every reason to trust in his love for her. Yet she cannot help being distressed by a young girl in the neighborhood who has the habit of dropping in all the time, plainly trying to impress him and paying very little attention to the wife or the children! As already said, the wife has absolutely no cause for doubting her husband. Furthermore, he does not encourage this girl, but the situation remains. The girl is as attractive as she is brazen and apparently has no intention of giving up before she has stirred up some response in the husband. There is no use in talking to the girl's parents as they are not especially interested in what she does and are themselves hardly ever home."

The hardest thing that she has to do is to force herself to think of the girl as nothing at all and show her manner that she has no fear or even thought of her. Any evidence of the wife's unhappiness is just adding oil to the fire of self-satisfaction that the girl is trying to build. The wife must try never to fall short in the many qualities for which her husband loves her. She must be sympathetic understanding and apparently unconscious of this fly in the ointment.

A Hostess Dress

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it improper to wear a long simple crepe dress at home when having friends to dinner who in all probability will arrive in street-length dresses? Their dresses will be of the afternoon type and all very much more elaborate than mine except that this dress I refer to has a long skirt. Inasmuch as I am staying indoors and they have to go out, shouldn't my long skirt be appropriate as long as the dress is otherwise extremely simple.

Answer: A hostess dress is always a long dress and if a hostess dress is not proper to wear when one is a hostess, when can one wear it? In short, a long skirt is proper.

Claude D. Pareis Have Golden Wedding Day

Mr. and Mrs. Claude D. Pareis, 465 Union avenue, Elizabeth, N. J., formerly of Ulster county, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Friday, February 1, at a dinner given in their honor by their children in the Terrace Room of the Hotel New Yorker.

Mr. Pareis, who is retired, is 75. Mrs. Pareis, the former Kathryn M. Van DeMark of Sterling, Ill., is 74. They were married February 1, 1896, in Brown Station and have lived since in Elizabeth. Mr. Pareis was born in Malden.

Present at the dinner were two daughters and a son, Mrs. Harry Hempel, Miss Hazel B. Pareis and Clifford Pareis and three grandchildren, the Misses Ruth K. and Harriette Hempel and Alan Van DeMark Pareis. Other guests were Harry Hempel, Mrs. Clifford Pareis, Mr. and Mrs. Ansthruther W. Dunbar and Miss Lillian Dunbar.

OLDEST POSTWOMAN QUILTS

Miss Edith Curtis, of Wadsworth, recently put on her slippers and retired as Corn wall's oldest postwoman, after having worn out 70 pairs of shoes in walking 100,000 miles—equal to four times around the world. "Edie," as she is known, retired at 60 after 40 years in the service. When she started in 1906, she got $1.30 a week for hiking daily over seven miles of rough country. When she retired, she was getting $5.20 a week for doing 11 miles a day.

SUGAR HOARDING HINTED

A small scandal threatened to break in Mexico when railroad interests here it is known that there were 1,445 tons of sugar warehoused in Ferote, where it had been taken, presumably by a sugar hoarding monopoly from Japapa and Villa Cardel. If it continues to be stored for any length of time instead of being put on the market, the price will be prohibitive, investigators believe. In view of Mexico's sugar shortage, efforts are being made to learn the sugar owner's plans.

Chungking, Feb. 3 (AP)—The approval of the continued presence of Soviet forces in Manchuria to expressed forces at a meeting here of the Northeast Joint Council of the Chinese against (Manchurian) Guild.

It was the first public display of Chinese dissatisfaction over the continued stay of Russian forces in Manchuria, from which the Soviet had been scheduled to withdraw by February 1.

The meeting decided to submit a petition to the Central Government requesting that it press for the early withdrawal of Soviet troops from Manchuria and change its alleged "yes" policy toward Russia.

This open evidence of Chinese disapproval of the Russians' armed stay in Manchuria came in fresh reports that Soviet forces

British Restore Order After Fierce Riots in Calcutta

Calcutta, Feb. 13 (AP)—British troops quieted rioting Hindus and Muslims in Calcutta today as the city's second outbreak of destruction within two and a half months ended after taking a toll of at least 22 dead and more than 200 injured. The soldiers were in complete control of the city.

The troops were called in last night after R. G. Casey, governor of Bengal, declared in a broadcast that the situation was such that he had ordered the army to come to the aid of the civil power in order that order may be restored in Calcutta as quickly as possible.

Earlier Associated Press dispatches erroneously interpreted Casey's statement as a declaration of martial law.

Many of the city's shopping districts today were scenes of destruction. The transportation system remained paralyzed, but a few ricksha boys were reappearing.

Business establishments and homes of Europeans bore the brunt of the rioters' attack. The rioting was in protest against the seven-year sentence passed on an officer of the Japanese-sponsored "Indian National Army."

Yesterday's injured included 18 U. S. soldiers and 20 policemen.

Want Parking Meters But Won't Install Them

Newburgh's Common Council Monday evening furnished City Manager Joseph A. Fogarty with a tough nut to crack, when they authorized him to purchase more than 100 parking meters, and then defeated an ordinance permitting their installation and operation.

Two weeks ago after months of agitation, the Newburgh council tentatively approved an ordinance providing for installation of parking meters on certain sections of the business streets in that city. Monday night they failed to approve the ordinance.

Ruth Gets Offer

Manchester, N. H., Feb. 13 (AP)—George Herman "Babe" Ruth has been offered a contract to manage the Manchester team in the New England League, C. Edward Bourassa, club president, announced today.

To make the offer attractive to the Babe, Bourassa said the club would be willing to pay a high salary for a class B league, and would ask other league clubs to pay a special bonus when Manchester played on the road.

American "Grass Roots" Locale Urged for U.N.O.

Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 13 (AP)—Henry R. Luce, publisher of Time, Life and Fortune, favors a site "nearer the grass roots of America" for the United Nations home rather than his Connecticut home region.

"The site they have chosen," he said, "would put them too close to New York and an erroneous conception of the nation."

Luce flew here last night after delivering a Lincoln Day address at Duke University, Durham, N. C., to join his wife, Rep. Clare Boothe Luce (R-Conn.), who spoke at a Lincoln dinner.

Mrs. Luce was to return to Washington by plane today, while the publisher is taking his plane to Portland, Ore., to visit Palmer Hoyt prior to the latter's shift from the Oregonian to the Denver, Colo., Post.

Mrs. Luce, in her two addresses, asserted foreign policy abets tyranny by failing to take a stand against Russian policy in Europe.

Representative Luce proposed a three-point Republican program of raising the Negro's economic status, aiding governments abroad "where no man is slave and none master" and succoring the victims of war.

Want Budget Slashed

Albany, N. Y., Feb. 13 (AP)—A Statewide taxpayer's organization urged the Legislature today to slash Governor Dewey's all-time high budget of $355,000,000 and reduce expenditures by 10 to 15 per cent.

At the outset, Ickes apologized for the length of his letter but said he felt he owed Mr. Truman and the country "a full explanation" x x x "in view of the evidence that the political gnats in Washington are already swarming."

The White House, apparently beating Ickes to the break, announced that Ickes had turned in his resignation yesterday and that Mr. Truman's acceptance, effective Friday, is on the way.

Mr. Cadaliery was said to have been the most seriously injured, sustaining injuries about the head and eye, but all sustained severe lacerations and bruises and were suffering from shock.

The police were told that the party was on its way to attend a wedding in Schenectady.

Food Handlers Will Meet Next Tuesday

The first of two meetings of food handlers in Kingston will be held at the Governor Clinton Hotel on Tuesday afternoon, February 19, at 2:30 o'clock, under the auspices of the Board of Health in co-operation with the State Health Department and the New York State Food Commission.

While these meetings are primarily for employers and employees of eating and drinking establishments, others interested in the subject may also attend the meeting.

The closing meeting will be held on Tuesday afternoon, February 26, at the hotel.

There will be demonstrations, speakers and pictures on the proper methods of safe handling of food, dish washing, and the improvement of service from a health standpoint.

Among those who will take part in the programs are Dr. John F. Larkin, health officer, Miss Helen L. Diehl, nutritionist of the New York Food Commission, Dr. Benjamin F. Mattison, district state health officer, Dr. J. S. Taylor, director of the city laboratory, Henry W. Scorslick, district milk sanitarian, and Charles W. Shultz, sanitary inspector of the city health department.

It is expected that every employer or employee of the eating and drinking establishments in Kingston will be in attendance.

Meeting on Auto Workers' Charges Postponed Today

Parley Indicated Between Operators and the C.I.O. on Wage Contracts

Detroit, Feb. 13 (AP)—A scheduled resumption of the National Labor Relations Board hearing on C.I.O. United Auto Workers charges that General Motors Corp. had failed to bargain in good faith with the union was suddenly postponed this morning.

There was no immediate explanation of the postponement but the action was said to reports that another meeting of the management and union on the wage and contract issues was being arranged.

Gerald D. Reilly, trial examiner, said he had postponed the Board hearing after a telephone conference with "my colleagues in the Department of Labor in Washington."

The "primary reason" for the postponement, he said, was to permit a resumption of negotiations between G.M. and the union. Reilly added, however, that he knew of no arrangements for further settlement conferences. The N.L.R.B. hearing, he said, was postponed for today only.

The union yesterday turned down a management offer of an increase of 15 1/2 cents an hour (16 1/2 per cent) and Walter P. Reuther, U.A.W.-C.I.O. vice-president, immediately rejected it. Leaving the negotiating conference Reuther said the union representatives would not return until G.M. was prepared to meet the 19 1/2 cent (17 1/2 per cent) hourly increase recommended by a presidential fact-finding board.

James F. Dewey, special Labor Department mediator, who has been seeking for more than a fortnight to effect settlement of the 85-cent old strike that has idled 175,000 G.M. production workers, denied he had sought adjournment of the N.L.R.B. hearing.

He said he was going to "confer with each side separately back and forth and try to get this worked out." He added that he was "going to try to find a new approach to the issues."

General Motors' offer of an 18 1/2 cents an hour increase bettered its last offer, made on November 7, by five cents. The management offered the strikers the alternative of returning to work under a proposed interim contract until details of a new agreement could be completed, or having the wage increase become effective on the date they return to work.

The company proposed a dues checkoff clause, but reiterated its objections to continuance of a union membership maintenance clause in the contract.

Kingston Has Hail, Rain Storm This Morning

A hail and rain storm broke over Kingston shortly after 8 o'clock this morning, as the official city thermometer was registering 36 degrees. At 10:30 a. m. the thermometer was recording 40 degrees.

Temperatures in the city yesterday ranged from a low of 23 to a high of 41 degrees, during the afternoon. Mild temperatures continued to prevail throughout the night with the official thermometer recording 31 degrees at midnight.

V.A. Seeks Additional G.I. College Rooms

Washington, Feb. 13 (AP)—The Veterans Administration is going to ferret out alternate schools for the veterans who can't find room in the colleges of their choice.

A unit in each of the agency's 54 regional offices will compile information about 1,500 to 2,000 junior colleges and four-year schools, an Administration official said today.

The number of veterans studying under the G.I. Bill of Rights increased sharply in January — from 91,176 at the first of the month to 136,383 at month's end, Administration records showed today.

However, 1,200 colleges still had room for 400,000 more students.

Medical Research Group Here Plans Educational Drive

and of protests from citizens of the city and county have poured into Albany addressed to the senators and assemblymen urging them to defeat the bill that has been introduced.

The Ulster County Medical Society, it was stated, has urged the formation of an Ulster County Committee of the Friends of Medical Research, and the movement also has the approval of the dental and veterinarian organizations of the Hudson river valley, as well as the entire state.

Nearly Passed

Attention was directed to the fact that a year ago anti-vivisectionists had introduced a bill which was passed in the senate but killed in the assembly, and that a well organized campaign was actively engaged in attempting to have similar legislation approved this year.

It is to the every effort to defeat any future legislation of this nature that a permanent organization was necessary not only in Ulster county, but throughout the state, it was stated.

The Steering Committee

The members of the steering committee named last night are: Dr. J. S. Taylor, Dr. James C. Randall, Dr. Maurice Silk, Dr. Fred Voss, Dr. Harold I. Baker, Dr. P. W. Gifford, Dr. W. L. Williams, J. McVie, Superintendent of Schools, Arthur J. Lull, Mr. Signor Martin J. Diney, Rabbi Herbert Bloom, H. L. Van Dusen, Dr. Charles O'Reilly, Miss Katherine M. Murphy, executive secretary of the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association and Miss John B. Krom.

Topic of Public Health

Miss Murphy called attention to the fact that the Ulster County Tuberculosis and Health Association had already taken active steps to combat anti-vivisection legislation and at its last meeting had adopted resolutions which had been forwarded to the senators and assemblymen.

In addition some 4,500 postcard protests, signed by Ulster county voters have already been mailed to Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Assemblyman John F. Wadlin.

The cards stated briefly that the signer wished to register a protest against the passage of a law prohibiting scientific research on dogs.

I am informed that physicians and research workers seeking to increase knowledge and to find the cause and treatment of still unsolved medical problems are unanimous that medical progress will be retarded by such a law. The services of the dog were indispensable in the work with insulin, liver treatment in pernicious anemia, discovery of blood plasma to save soldiers' lives, and with rabies and distemper in dogs' the protests read.

Bridge, Ferry Bills Approved By Lions Club

A resolution favoring the bridge and ferry bill's now before the State Legislature and an amendment to select a pianist to represent the club at the annual convention were the items of business offered for consideration of the Lions Club at the regular Tuesday dinner, George J. Barry Jr., who recently was chosen president to fill the unexpired term of Rabbi Herbert Bloom, presided.

Approval of the proposed ferry and bridge service was unanimous and Attorney Frank Martorelli was authorized to draw up a suitable resolution for presentation to the legislature.

The contest to select the club's best piano player brought five contestants to display their skill, and the Lions were treated to a varied selection of music—played in "various methods." Roger Baer was finally designated as the local club's choice to represent them at the state convention in June.

Thursday evening February 14 the annual Ladies Night banquet of the Lions Club will be held at the Pines.

A special entertainment program has been arranged for the occasion, and dinner will be served at 6:30.

Marine League Is Planned in City

James Cave Leads Move to Organize Corps Vets

A move is under way to organize a Detachment of the Marine Corps League to serve present and former members of the United States Marine Corps in Ulster county.

James Cave is heading the organizational movement and a meeting to which all Marines in Ulster county are invited, has been called for Friday, February 15, at 8 p. m. The meeting will be held in the Elks Club, Fair street, Kingston. A temporary organization will be formed, following which application for a charter will be made. Also Marines present at this organization will be asked to decide upon a name for the new Detachment.

The Marine Corps League, which is national in scope, was founded in New York city November 10, 1922, the 147th birthday of the Marine Corps. In August, 1937 it was incorporated by Act of Congress.

A non-political, non-sectarian and non-partisan organization, it is designed to perpetuate the history of the Marine Corps, to assist whenever possible men who have served or now are serving in the Marine Corps, their widows and orphans, and to cement the ties of comradeship and friendship which bind Marines everywhere.

JAPS STRIP SHRINE
The Japs stripped and looted the shrine on San Juan Island, China, marking the spot where St. Francis Xavier died according to Bishop Adolph Paschang, of the Maryknoll Mission in Hongkong. Father Robert Cairns, who was in charge of San Juan Island, was seized by the Japs soon after Pearl Harbor and is presumed to be dead. Most cathedrals were stripped by the Japs, the Bishop declared. Keep powdered sugar in tin containers covered glass or tin containers prevent lumping.
